Local woman remains jailed for sex crimes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Rebecca Michalak, 29, of the 42700 block of North Lake Ave. in Antioch, remains in custody at the Lake County Jail for two counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse and one count of child pornography for having sex with an ex-boyfriend's minor son that was videotaped.

Lt. Fred Heidecke of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. said Michalak's bond has been set at $30,000, and that she would be responsible for one-tenth of that amount to be released.

The charges were brought when

Tenant dispute causes village board to review building codes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

For the past two consecutive meetings during the public comment segment of the regular meeting of the Board of Directors for the Village of Antioch, Elizabeth Langdon has stood to read letters into the meetings, and to otherwise speak on her 85-year-old mother's behalf against landlord Jerry Rossi.

At both meetings, Langdon has levied serious allegations against Rossi that she claims have taken place over the past couple of years, ranging from failing to provide adequate heat during the winter to blocking one entrance of the elderly woman's home with a bulldozer.

According to Langdon, at the time the first complaint was filed with public safety inspector Lee Shannon regarding heat, Antioch had not yet adopted portions of the state BOCA (Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc.) codes regulating the degree of

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The new text changes approved by the Antioch Board of Directors relating to automatic annexation, and the sensitive area of Antioch referred to as the East Sub-Area, have apparently eased the minds of many Antioch residents.

While a hearing held earlier this year about annexing the Archdiocese of Chicago property and the properties of Dale and Alfred Pedersen brought crowds of residents to the meeting who swayed the board to reject the petition, this last meeting brought out only a couple.

The property being petitioned for annexation is 285 acres of land situated north of Rte. 173 and east of Rte. 45. The Archdiocese of Chicago owns the 40 acres contiguous to Antioch that would allow the Peder-sens to come in with their 245 acres. The petitions for annexation will be continued until Nov. 6 at 7 p.m. due, in part, to a snag with the publication of the legal notice.

Village attorney Ken Clark explained, "There are two reasons why this public hearing will be continued. Number one, there was no publication of this hearing in the papers, and number two, some of the text in the annexation agreements is to be changed."

Clark said some discussions would begin as a courtesy because green cards (registered mail notices) had been sent to the property owners within 200 feet of the property. At that point, resident Elmer Van Haecke spoke up and said that he had not been notified, and that his property is adjacent to the land in question. His father had mistakenly been notified instead of him.

Clark explained that in the case of automatic annexation under B-1 zoning (the most restrictive under state statute) it is a courtesy, not a legal requirement, to notify residents within 200 feet of the property's border.

The changes to the annexation agreements proposed by Clark strengthen the language to clarify that property annexed in the East Sub-Area must, by village ordinance, follow the comprehensive plan. Public comment during the previous annexation proposals by these petitioners was the primary impetus for the ordinance change to protect some of the area's most sensitive land.

Clark read his proposed changes. "However, the developers/owners understand, should the developers

Good Samaritan rescues elderly woman from fire

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

An anonymous man who spotted smoke coming from the burning home of an elderly woman, who lived alone in a two-story farmhouse on North Ave., rescued the woman on the morning of Sept. 29.

According to Antioch Fire Dept. Capt. Jeff Vandevoorde, the man was driving down the road when he saw the smoke, and the woman sitting on the front porch apparently unaware that her house was on fire. The man led the woman away from the burning house and called the fire department.

"The basement was fully involved, and fire and smoke reached the first floor," said Vandevoorde. "It took over an hour to get the fire out with the help of several fire departments."

No injuries were reported, but the house was destroyed in the fire.

Vandevoorde said, "The house will probably have to be torn down. There was extensive damage."

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but investigators are looking at the possibility of a faulty furnace or electrical wiring.

According to Vandevoorde, the woman's son came to the home and left with her. "She's probably staying with relatives."

Referendum committee to present proposal to village

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 will present proposed referendum items at the regular board meeting scheduled for Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Village Hall.

High school superintendent Dennis Hockney said, "We are trying to get the word out that the need is real. There is $11.7 million available now if this referendum is passed that will make it more affordable for taxpayers. We won't get this money if the referendum doesn't pass."

A flyer put out by Dist. 117 referendum committee says that the school population has grown by nearly 400 students in the past four years, and that projections indicate another 1,000 will be added in the next decade.

It also states that alleviating overcrowded conditions both improves education opportunities for students, and enhances property values.

Hockney said, "We have no choice—enrollment is going to grow. Delaying this will increase construction costs in the future (because state funds would no longer be available)."

If the referendum passes, the flyer states that the cost to the owner of a $200,000 home would be $176.87 per year, or $3.41 per week.

An additional education fund increase of $.28 would also be needed to operate the school, and would also work out to $176.87 per year for the owner of a $200,000 home. The flyer notes that the school would not open until 2004, and the first increase would be due at that time, and the second in 2005, leaving five years until the full $28 will be charged.

Residents are encouraged to register to vote, and to "vote yes twice." Voter registration is being held at the high school until Oct. 10.

School Dist. 41 to hold book fairs

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Community Consolidated School Dist. 41 will hold book fairs at all four of its schools. Some of the schools will offer special events in conjunction with the fairs.

B.J. Hooper Elementary School at 2400 E. Sand Lake Rd. in Lindenhurst, Thompson Elementary School at 515 Thompson Ln. in Lake Villa, and Pleviak Elementary School at 304 E. Grand Ave. in Lake Villa will hold their fairs Oct. 11-12 from 5-8 p.m. The principal and staff members will conduct readings. Pizza and soda pop will be available.

Thompson's fair will feature a reading by Superintendent Dr. Michael Anderson at 5:45 p.m. on Oct. 11. At 6:15 p.m., two teachers dressed as "The Cat-in-the-Hat" will also read for students and parents.

Palombi Middle School at 133 S. McKinley in Lake Villa will hold its book fair Oct. 10-12 during the day, from 8 a.m.-2:30 p.m., so students can purchase books during regular school hours. In addition, the fair will open on Oct. 11 in the evening, from 5:30-8:30 p.m.

"This is the first year we are doing this at night" said Palombi's PTO co-vice president Trisha Musich. Musich hopes the evening hours will help the school raise more money than in previous years.

DUI cop faces jury trial

Friend Wasilowski charged for attempted obstruction of justice

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Police officer Steven M. Hayes, 27, of McHenry, pled not guilty before Judge Christopher Starck when he was arraigned on charges of aggravated DUI for a May crash that caused grave bodily harm to the two passengers 22-year-old Jennifer Boyd, and 27-year-old Richard Anderson, both of McHenry.

Hayes will be tried before a jury in Starck's courtroom Nov. 13 at the courthouse in Waukegan. According to chief of felony review at the State's Attorney office Matt Chancey, aggravated DUI as a violation with grave bodily harm is a felony that could carry a maximum sentence of up to 12 years incarceration at the department of corrections.

The May accident happened on Neville Rd. near Dowell Rd. in unincorporated Wauconda.

Initially, a fourth man, Daniel R. Wasilowski, 27, of McHenry, told the officers at the scene that he had been driving the 1996 Jeep that was involved in the accident. Through Lake County Sheriff's Dept. investigation, it later came out that Hayes had been the Jeep's driver and that Wasilowski had been following behind in a separate vehicle.

Wasilowski will be arraigned Oct. 18 on the misdemeanor charge of attempt to obstruct justice before Judge Valerie Cekowski at 9 a.m. in Waukegan.

Boy Scouts to host 40th annual spaghetti dinner

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Bring a good appetite to Boy Scout Troop 92's 40th annual spaghetti dinner on Oct. 15 from noon-7 p.m. at the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 located on west Rte. 173 in Antioch.

"Last year we served 941 plates of spaghetti," said committee member and advancement chairman Linda Veach. "Some of those were seconds." Nonetheless, the troop makes preparations to serve 1,100 people with 160 lbs. of No. 2 noodles and 150 lbs. of hamburger.

The spaghetti dinner is a fund-raiser for the scouts to help offset the costs of the year's activities.

For $5, one can enjoy an all-you-can-eat meal consisting of spaghetti, slaw, bread, dessert and a drink. Children younger than 5 years old are welcome to eat for free.

"This is such an exciting day for us every year," said scoutmaster Wayne Veach. "This event is our single fund-raiser for the year to offset camping and equipment costs for the scouts."

Door prizes and small raffles will be held throughout the day about every half hour. "Merchants from Antioch, and some from outside the area, have donated the items that will be used for the prizes," said Linda. "We haven't collected everything yet, so we don't know for sure what the big raffle item will be."

Winner of the main raffle held at 7 p.m. does not need to be present at the time, but winners of the smaller drawings held on the half-hour must. Scouts estimate that 120 prizes will be given during the course of the day.

In addition to camping fun, community service plays a major role in Troop 92's activities. The Scouts have been maintaining 50 wood duck boxes at the Chain O'Lakes State Park since 1980. The troop assists the Northern Illinois Conservation Club with its annual fishing tournament at Channel Lake as well as helping the Antioch Lion's Club with its picnic and auction to benefit the Antioch Rescue Squad.

According to Linda Veach, the Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge 525 has sponsored the scout troop for at least 45 years. Throughout the year, the troop gives back to its sponsor by helping with Moose Lodge projects.

Tickets are available at the door, or in advance by calling Linda at 838-0855.

This fundraiser is going to the dogs

There will be a fundraiser to benefit some senior dogs in need of adoption from the St. Francis Animal Shelter in Kenosha, Wis. These dogs are in need of some good publicity so that they can find their way into a loving home.

To accomplish this, June Johnson will be conducting a sale at her Lake Marie home on Oct. 14-15 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. with the proceeds going to buy picture ads in local papers showing off these wonderful, though slightly older dogs.

Shelter manager Chris Kiedrowicz said there are four dogs in particular who have lived the majority of their lives at the shelter. She said, "Sandy is a 10-year-old lab mix who has been here since she was a pup. Jackson is a border collie/lab mix who has been here for five years and is about 7 years old. A dog we call 'No Name' is a medium-size terrier mix who is about 9 years old and has been here for quite some time. And, there is a yearling, who has been here about six years. She's about 10 years old.

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

She's docile, but unsocialized and will need a little special attention."

There will be both new and used at this sale, but Johnson wanted to make it clear this is not a garage sale.

Sale items will include furniture, sporting equipment, glassware, crafts, fishing gear and linens among other things. Straight donations are also welcome as Johnson hopes to raise $1,000 to get these pooches' pictures in print.

The sale will be located at 25380 East Ave. From Beach Grove Rd. (located off of Rte. 59 between Rte. 173 and Grass Lake Rd.) travel west to North Ave. and turn right. Go to Hickory and turn left. Take Hickory to West Lake and turn right. Turn right again at East Ave., and take East Ave. to the end. The house is on the left-hand side of the road at the lake.

Mardi Gras is finally here!

The Antioch Rotary Club's annual Pork Chop Barbecue and Auction will be held Oct. 7 at St. Peter's Father Hanley Social Center. Dinner will begin at 5 p.m. and the auction will start at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $20 and are available at the State Bank of the Lakes, First National Bank-Employee Owned, Osmond Insurance and from any rotarian.

Full payment is due at the time of the auction by cash, Visa or Mastercard.

heat that must be made available to tenants by landlords.

The village adopted these codes in July 1998, but Langdon insists the problem was ongoing through last year when she claims her mother was forced to move in with Langdon's sister for three weeks when the temperature was too cold. Langdon also claims that her sister paid for someone to come out and fix her mother's heater—repairs that should have been made by Rossi.

Langdon explained that there are two model-style heating units in her mother's apartment and that only one worked.

At the first of these two meetings, trustee Wayne Foresta said, "If it's 20 degrees or 20 degrees below (zero), and there is no heat in the apartment—then it is an emergency. I'd think we could do a better job enforcing the law."

Attorney Ken Clark recommended that Langdon seek an order of protection for her mother during that first meeting. At the second meeting Langdon reported that she had tried to do so, but had been unable because there was none for a tenant/landlord situation. Clark then offered to talk to the state's attorney and said, "I think an ordinance has been extended to cover non-relatives."

Langdon said that police had been called when Rossi blocked her mother's only non-stair exit with a bulldozer, and the officers who arrived explained there was little they could do.

her former boyfriend found videotapes of Michalak with his 15-year-old son and one of his son's friends. The man brought those tapes to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. Heidecke said, "It's clear from the tapes that one or more of the victims took turns holding the camera while making the tapes."

According to Heidecke, the acts occurred during a four-month time period between June and September in the former boyfriend's home in the 2600 block of Grapevine in unincorporated Antioch in the Channel Lake area. The son

Clark offered, "Typically, it's a private matter (when a landowner parks a vehicle or equipment on private property)."

Trustee Marvin Oldenburger said, "For safety reasons there has to be two entrance/exits available in case of fire. If he is purposely blocking an exit, then we ought to be able to do something."

Clark indicated that with the series of laws dealing with elder issues stronger action might be available. He said, "Blocking one of the exits of someone who is 85 years old may raise that to a criminal level."

Trustee Dorothy Larson asked, "Can we talk to this guy and let him know what the laws are?"

Director of planning, zoning and building Bob Silhan said, "I tried to carefully draft a letter to let him know that Oct. 1 is coming, and that he has to comply with our ordinance." Silhan then indicated that his letter had irritated Rossi.

Silhan's letter read, "As owner of an apartment building in the Village, you are hereby reminded that Oct. 1 begins the official heating season in the Village of Antioch and Lake County... All habitable rooms, bathrooms and toilet rooms shall be heated to 65 degrees F. during the hours between 6:30 a.m. and 10:30 p.m.; and 60 degrees F. during other hours."

Langdon's mother's lease period is nearly over, and she plans to move in with Langdon's sister.

Rossi was unavailable for comment.

SPENDING

$1,109,897 with expenditures of $1,334,964. The bond and interest fund will increase by $720,625 with $678,499 in expenditures.

The transportation fund expenditures of $1,481,855 will be greater than the revenue that should be $1,064,994. The IMRF/SS fund will collect $453,469 in revenue while the expenditures will be $510,538.

The biggest difference is shown in the site and construction fund with $2,291,506 in revenue expected, and $12,861,000 being spent on construction projects in the works.

There are no expenditures anticipated in either the working cash or the life safety fund. Revenue is expected in the amount of $60,000 for the working cash fund, and $155 in the life safety fund.

According to Cullinan, the voters determined the last education tax rate in 1989, and there is no referendum item on the November ballot for Dist. 34.

RESCUES

The Antioch Fire Dept. was assisted at the scene by personnel from the Fox Lake, Lake Villa, Round Lake and Newport Township departments as well as from fire departments in Bristol and Salem, Wis.

"It's really a shame," said Vandevoorde. "It was a nice little farm house, and a nice lady."

desire to obtain a different zoning than E-1, the developers must first look to the comprehensive plan of the village in existence at the time of the desired change. If the comprehensive plan for this parcel has a different zoning district than the one desired by the developers, then the developers must petition the village to change the comprehensive plan before any requested rezoning is made from the E-1 zoning," he said.

The square footage requirements of the comprehensive plan shall control the lot size for any development. For instance, the E-1 zone allows for a minimum of 40,000 square foot lots, however, if the comprehensive plan calls for one acre or greater, then the comprehensive plan shall control.

Presenter for the petitioners Michael Gantar, of Gantar and DeMartini, Ltd. indicated that his clients would be happy with the 3-5 acre zoning indicated for the area in the comprehensive plan.

The petitioners have no current plans for development.

DUI

William M. Pompeo, 24, of 1318 Leslie Ave in Round Lake Beach, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol, possession of cannabis and for the illegal transportation of alcohol on Sept. 29 at 11:52 p.m. on Depot St. at Deep Lake Rd.

Police locked a vehicle traveling northbound on Deep Lake Rd. at 90 mph in a posted 55-mph zone. The vehicle turned westbound onto Depot St. and police pulled over the vehicle there.

The driver was requested to produce his driver's license, but instead produced a citation. Police detected a strong odor of alcohol at that time, and asked Pompeo if he had been drinking.

Pompeo told police he had five beers. He was unable to complete a field sobriety test.

Police placed Pompeo under arrest for driving under the influence of alcohol. While securing him with handcuffs, the officer saw a glass smoking pipe lying on the street where Pompeo had been standing. The bowl portion of the pipe was filled with cannabis.

During the vehicle tow inventory, a half-full bottle of beer was found.

Pompeo was advised of his Miranda rights and agreed to make a statement and submit to chemical testing resulting in .11 blood alcohol concentration.

Pompeo told police he consumed five beers while smoking cannabis in his home at 9 p.m. He said the pipe was his, and that had dropped it on the street hoping officers would not notice. He also said the cannabis was his and was for his own personal use.

He was placed through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding, driving with a BAC over .08, illegal transportation of alcohol, and possession of cannabis.

Pompeo was released on proper bond pending his court date.

Illegal transportation of alcohol

Nathan W. O'Neill, 26 of 277 Oakridge Ct. in Antioch, was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license and for the illegal transportation of alcohol on Oct. 1 at 3:08 a.m. on Hillside Ave. at Crest.

Police pulled O'Neill over because his rear registration plate was not illuminated. His driver's license was requested, and he responded that he was driving on a ticket, and handed the officer his identification card.

A check through LEADS/NCIC/SOS confirmed that his driver's license was suspended.

While conducting a tow inventory report, police located a one-pint can of beer under a shirt on the front seat. It was cold and over half full.

O'Neill was transported to Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for having no rear registration plate light, driving with a suspended driver's license and illegal transportation of alcohol.

The police report said he did not appear to be under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

He was released on personal recognition pending his Oct. 25 court date.

Bank recycles to support ACHS

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Don't throw away used inkjet cartridges, they may be worth money.

The First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBE) has joined efforts with AAA Environmental Inc. of Morton Grove to help the ecology and to help the Antioch Community High School (ACHS) music department at the same time.

Recycling bags are available at FNBE as part of a recycling program offered by AAA. The bags are postage-paid by AAA who then donates cash for each acceptable empty ink jet cartridge. Each good condition, original manufactured cartridge generates $1 in donation money.

"It's important to stress that we donate money for cartridges that are in good condition and not remanufactured cartridges," said AAA senior vice president Scott Barclay. "We aren't able to recycle cartridges that have been refilled or remanufactured."

Acceptable cartridges must be virgin (not remanufactured or refilled) and have no visible damage. Only Canon cartridges with the numbers BC-02, BC-05, BC-20 or BX-2, and Hewlett Packard cartridges with the numbers HP 51625A, HP 51626A, HP 51626G, HP 51629A, HP 51629G, HP 51640 A-C-Y-M, HP 61645A, HP 61645G, HP 51641A are being accepted.

For more information call Karen Kubin at FNBE 838-2265, or Sherry Kujawa at AAA Environmental 583-1315.

Business women to network at Oct. 11 meeting

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Offering business women the opportunity to network is what binds the American Business Women's Association (ABWA), Express Network of the Lakes.

The group formed about a year ago and regularly meets on the second Wednesday of the month. The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 11 at 7:30 a.m. at the Keller Williams Realty Office located on Rte. 83 just south of Rte. 173.

Member Nancy Wallner said, "This is an organization especially for working women to network with one another and discuss ways to market our businesses."

Each month, one of the members is selected to talk about her business as a featured speaker. This month's speaker will be Susan Jacobs of Copley Chicago Newspapers.

"In the future, we will also add some speakers who are not members of the organization, but who have something to offer," said Wallner.

Though the group is affiliated with ABWA, it has not yet become an official charter member. "It takes 30 members to be eligible to charter, and right now we have 18," said Wallner.

Meetings are open to all business women who think they might be interested in joining the organization. "It's important for women to know they are welcome to come to a meeting to see if we are the right type organization for them," Wallner said. "Not all organizations fit everyone, and this gives women an opportunity to see if we are a good fit."

Acting officers have been elected for the interim as the organization gains membership. "We're still in the process of deciding what pet projects we want to adopt," added Wallner. "It's great to be involved with an organization from the beginning, and having some say in how it is developed."

Posts present fire station with flags

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Firefighter Henry Will invited Antioch VFW and Auxiliary Post 4551 to the Trevor Fire Station's open house. While they were there, the post presented the fire station with both American and POW flags.

"The VFW does a lot of community service, not only in Antioch, but also in Trevor and Salem (Wis.)," said Barbara Gray in a written report. "We have members in that live in those areas, so it makes it only right that we also help those communities."

During the open house, the firefighters showcased new equipment they were able to purchase with donations that came in part from the VFW post, and explained they had plans to replace an older model fire truck with one that is able to carry more water.

The post had the opportunity to meet Chief Tom Seep, and Assistant Chief Ed Kelly.

"All in all, the morning made me appreciate the time and effort of all volunteer firemen," Gray added. "It is not an easy job, and I am just glad to know that if I ever need help, I can count on so many terrific men and women who are willing to give their lives as did all of our veterans."

The marvels of modern technology

In this day and age, everyone must be connected with one another. Perhaps that helps bolster our self-esteem by making us feel important or needed. We all have cell phones, pagers, e-mail, fax machines and instant messaging to keep us available and at everyone's beck and call 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

How times have changed—12 years ago when I was pregnant with our first child that wonderfully over protective man, I married provided me with a portable phone. I was so embarrassed to use it I kept it hid in my car's glove compartment. I felt like a snob and thought, "Who the heck am I to be toting around one of these new inventions?" I never used it. Nowadays I have seen 6-year old children pulling cell phones out of their backpacks on the playground to check with mom to see if little Billy can come over after school.

A while back I was in the company of two grown adults, with high fluent jobs, attempting to take a week's vacation with their two young children. The gist of their entire conversation was how often they had to call so and so, and when they needed to check their office voice mail. My thought was, "You are supposed to be enjoying the next seven days with your two offspring—the hell with what is going on at the office." Oh yes, the convenience of modern technology. Unfortunately folks, I hate to break the bad news to you but, nobody, absolutely nobody, is indispensable, and if you feel you are, then try not to break your arm patting yourself on the back.

At a recent class I attended, the instructor wanted to make sure everyone had turned off all their technological equipment that might ring, beep, buzz or chirp during his presentation. Before the lunch break,

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

three different devices were heard from. At the morning break, which was about an hour into the class, everyone fled out of the room to check in at the office via their cell phone. I used my free time more wisely to take a dip in the hotel pool and browse through the gift shop. Most of these people stood around with puffed out chests trying to out-shout each other to prove who had the more important job. A whole column could be devoted to telephone etiquette itself.

We have all been in restaurants and movie theaters when the silence has been broken by ringing or beeping. I have been talking to grieving family members at wakes, and once in church the air was graced with a ringing phone. The poor soul first tried to pretend it wasn't his pocket that was ringing, until his wife jabbed him with an elbow that rifled down the whole pew. The fellow was fumbling around frisking himself searching for the noisy apparatus as he was bolting for the side door of the church. Wouldn't it have been nice when he had returned to his seat if the presiding padre would have inquired if all was well?

Oh, I know cell phones are nice in the event of an emergency and can become quite handy when you are broken down on the side of the road, that's why I never leave home without mine. After all I travel a lot of miles in one day and I certainly want to stay connected in the event that someone wants to get a hold of me for something every important, like where to meet for lunch.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Giving back

"It's a nice investment in the future," said DeRionne Pollard, Acting Dean, Communication Arts Division at The College of Lake County.

Pollard was on hand, along with approximately 200 of her closest friends, at the Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund and Sports Banquet.

And what she was referring to were the two $1,000 scholarships handed out to aspiring journalists in memory of Ryan, the former renowned sportscaster who passes away 12 years ago.

"It's just a reflection of where hard work can take you," said one of the recipients Louis Korom IV, the current Editor-In-Chief for the CLC Chronicle and graduate of Antioch High.

Warren High's Katrina Simmons was named the other winner. Simmons is the Managing Editor for the Chronicle. Both plan on pursuing careers in either teaching or journalism.

A Who's Who crowd then enjoyed the presentations and induction's of four former standouts into the Waukegan Lions Club Sports Hall of Fame.

They included three-sport star Bob Billberg, all-area and all-state baseball player Joe Chess, all-state football player John Simcic, Jr., and Tom Schwab, an NCAA All-American swimmer and diver during the early 1970s. All four are graduates of Waukegan High School.

The Lake County Sports Hall of Fame inductees included basketball extraordinaire Lisa Foss, a Lake Zurich grad who still ranks among the tops in the county in scoring and is in the Northern Illinois University Hall of Fame, where she is also the leading scorer.

"Sports has been a great avenue and has molded me into what I am," she said in her acceptance speech.

Intimidating left-handed pitcher and Highland Park grad Sean Johnston was next on the agenda. Johnston is the Giants' all-time leader in strikeouts.

Dr. Russ Schneider, a graduate of Warren High, was an all-state wrestler at 145 pounds. He was also an NCAA All-American while competing for Northwestern.

"It's certainly a great honor," said the Waukegan grad. "But my heroes were the coaches and teachers."

Fourth on the impressive list of inductees was Mike Wagner, a Carmel High alum who played for the three-time Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers during the Steel Curtain years in the 70s.

And last but certainly not least was Round Lake three-sport star Tom Wittum. Wittum, while being drafted by the Chicago White Sox in the 1968 Amateur Baseball Draft, made his mark on the football field, mostly as a punter.

In fact, Wittum, who has been coaching and teaching at Grayslake High School for over 26 years, still holds an NFL Pro-Bowl record of 64 yards while a member of the San Francisco 49ers in 1974.

"I've had so many memorable moments but it's always been the people that made all of the difference," he said.

Wittum also said that all present in the Chandler Room at Midlane Resort and Country Club could not come close to equaling what Keith Ryan did to promote Lake County sports.

And if you had ever had the chance to meet Keith, I'm sure we're all on the same page with regards to that statement.

'Pack running' the name of the game for Sequoit runners

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

In cross country, 'pack running' is the key to the kingdom.

And that's exactly what the Antioch varsity girls and boys cross country teams are doing as they brace for the North Suburban meet Oct. 14 at River Park in Silver Lake, Wis.

"It's (pack running) definitely starting to form," said head coach Dave Judson. "I'm very impressed with the fact that we had seven guys within 12 seconds of each other Monday."

Leading the way during a 24-41 victory over visiting Mundelein was junior Ryan Moxley, who finished second with a time of 17:28

Sequoit varsity football: Can you dig it!

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Ever have that feeling when everything's going right?

Just ask the Antioch varsity football team.

"This is fun," echoed from the sidelines as the host Sequoits put a 41-6 hurtin' on the previously unbeaten Libertyville Wildcats Sept. 30, marking the first time since 1991 such a thing has happened.

"It was a very exciting game. We played well in all facets," said head coach Del Pechauer.

Pechauer was more excited by the fact that his team had no turnovers while only being flagged for two penalties.

"That's something we've been working on all year," he said. "We got the momentum early and maintained it. Whenever they (Libertyville) started driving, we would answer with a big play or turnover."

For the game, the Cats penalties finally caught up with them. Libertyville was called for 11 flags for 83 yards to go along with four turnovers.

The first, was an Ari Brown pick, which set up a 31-yard field goal by Adam Jordan.

"I think we made them (Libertyville) mad," said Pechauer from the sidelines as the Cats were driving after that field goal.

But an ineligible man down field call against the Cats negated any chance to put points on the board.

Meanwhile, the offense could do no wrong. And the timing was perfect as well.

Running back Mark Purnell, who eclipsed 100 yards (117) for the first time this season, scampered for a first down on third-and-seven. Purnell then capped the drive with a 13-yard run to put Antioch up 10-0 with 2:25 left in the first.

Any chance of Libertyville gaining momentum was shunned when the ensuing kickoff, of the onside variety, was recovered by Antioch's Mark Green. On the first play, Brandon White hit a streaking Brown down the sidelines for a 17-0 lead.

Big plays again took center stage before halftime when Libertyville lined up for a field goal. It was blocked by wingback and DB Eric White, who promptly dashed 45-yards down the sideline for another score as Antioch was well in command at 27-0 at halftime.

White, who finished with 36 yards receiving, also picked off a pass earlier in the first half. Brown, who tallied 78 yards via the air, added his second interception later in the game on a key third-down play for Libertyville.

Meanwhile, the Sequoit defense was simply stellar. The likes of Scott Gehrke, who recovered a fumble, Chris Rogalla, Scott Hodina and Jeff Kennedy harassed Cats' quarterback B.J. McCaslin all day long and shut down the potent Libertyville running attack, holding them to 59 yards. For the game, ACHS held a

"Both of our lines played great," said (Eric) White. "We went man-to-man on them on defense and that allowed us to focus more on their running game."

Purnell added the insurance touchdowns on runs of 3 and 4 yards in the second half.

Antioch, winners of five straight, improved to 5-1 overall and 2-0 in the NSC Lake with another tall order in Stevenson coming to the northern territory for ACHS' homecoming Oct. 7. Kickoff is slated for 1 p.m..

"We're in real good position to make some noise," said White.

Davis heading to sectionals; Lady Sequoits third in NSC

Tom Davis is making his senior campaign on the Antioch varsity boy's golf team a memorable one.

The senior Sequoit golfer, playing amongst some pretty stiff competition, fired a 5-over-par 76 at the Jacobs regional, held at the Golf Club of Illinois.

With his 12th-place finish, Davis moves on to the Highland Park sectional, held at Highland Park CC Tuesday, Oct. 10.

"Tommy played very well," said head coach Jeff Moxley. "This was a challenging course and a beautiful day. We knew it was going to be tough to get out of this region. But overall, we played good golf—just not great golf."

Backing Davis was junior Shawn Schuler, who carded a 79. Mike Baba, who will also graduate next spring, and Adam Placko each shot 83s. Andrew Kinney, who will be a returning senior along with Schuler, fired an 84. Freshman Andrew Curto rounded out the Sequoit scoring with an 89.

As a team, Antioch finished seventh out of 18 with a four-man score of 321. Barrington won the event with a 305.

"I'm happy with the season," added Moxley. "We lose Baba and Davis but have the nucleus in Kinney and Schuler returning. We'll also have Curto, Woltzen and seniors Alex Holfeldt and Lem Jeras back. We'll look to build on that but should be solid again next year."

Beating defending state champ Lake Forest in the Antioch Invitational a couple of weeks ago was definitely one of the highlights for the Sequoits.

"Winning our invite and beating them after they got us by a stroke two days before was very satisfying," said Moxley.

Meanwhile, the Lady Sequoits cracked the 200 barrier (for nine holes) the first time this season en route to an 11th place effort in the Champaign Centennial Invitational. Danielle Nielsen lead the Sequoits with a 91.

Earlier in the week, Nielsen carded a 47, Katie Malcolm 48, Lynsey Ketterling 54, and Katie Lincoln 55 as ACHS downed Vernon Hills at Spring Valley, 204-285.

Antioch, currently 5-9 overall and 3-2 in the NSC Lake, also edged Libertyville 219-229. Nielsen fired a 50, Malcolm a 51 and Lincoln and Sehmer 59s to lead the scoring.

Nielsen (93) and Sehmer (104) were named all-conference as the Sequoits finished third with a 420.

"We haven't played badly at all for being such a young team," said head coach Steve Wapon.

On the junior varsity level, Sarah Stampfli finished ninth with a 115 and Renee Ramirez 11th with a 120 as the Sequoits claimed second in the conference meet.

each other."

Finishing right behind Clarke and Hammond was sophomore Lauren Cole fourth (18:18), sophomore Beth Fries fifth (18:34), and sophomore Kari Hintz sixth (18:39).

"We took the 1, 2, 4, 5 and 6 spots and that's what pack running is all about," said Judson. "And I'm very pleased with our underclassmen. We have some excellent talent coming back for next year."

At the ACHS Invitational Sept. 30, the boys team turned in a solid second-place showing as Moxley finished 12th with a time of 17:18, two places away from a medal.

Both teams compete in the Benet (Lisle) Invitational Oct. 7.

over the 3-mile course.

"Ryan's been doing an excellent job for us," added Judson. "He's a very low-key kid and leads by example. He works hard and gives it everything he's got. He suffered a calf muscle injury recently but just works through the pain. That's just the type of determination he has."

Backing Moxley Monday was senior Nick Downard in third (17:33), senior Eric Langner fourth (17:34), freshman David Dee fifth (17:36), sophomore David Cook sixth (17:38), freshman Jim Beatty seventh (17:39), and freshman Andy Napier eighth (17:40).

According to Judson, most of those times were personal-best for the guys.

Meanwhile, the girls team has been taking some numbers as well. Against Mundelein, the Lady Sequoits cruised to an 18-43 victory as senior Holly Clarke won the event with a PB time of 17:44 over the 2.5 mile layout. Finishing right behind in second was sophomore Amanda Hammond, who also earned a PB time of 17:45.

"Holly has been our leader all year," said Judson. "She's a great runner, is very soft-spoken, and leads by example."

Hammond actually lead the race and had a 16-second lead on Clarke until the mile mark, when Clarke wound up taking over.

"In the beginning, Holly would lead races and Amanda was behind her," noted Judson. "But lately, Amanda has really started to push her, which is a good thing. They both push Corey Straube of Burlington survived a late derby scare to score the Big Car Demolition Derby Championship highlighting the First Annual Night of Destruction on Saturday, Sept. 30 at Premier Racing Production's Wilmot Speedway.

Nick Schmidt of Salem won his first ever demolition derby after several years of trying in full sized cars by taking top honors in the Small Car Championship.

'Crazy D' of Kenosha was a crowd favorite by rolling his Honda over on three different occasions with the most rolls totaling two and one-half times.

"We've been trying to kill this car several times," said an elated Straube following his first ever demolition derby victory. "It started out as a Lion's Club race car, and now it's been in a couple of derbies. Who knows, maybe it'll live to see another day."

Straube was down to the final two in the finale when a small fire was detected in the engine compartment. No sooner had he stopped to allow fire crews to survey the situation, than a water hose popped sending steam billowing out from under the hood. Straube was not injured and the car refired.

During a subsequent delay for another fire in a car that was already disabled, it proved bad luck for Straube's last competitor when Tim Smith's car would not restart.

Straube was able to keep his machine moving during the countdown by the enthusiastic fans and scored the checkered flag victory. Smith ended up second with John Blasky third.

"This is great and a lot of fun," said Schmidt following his victory in the small cars. "There's always close calls out there as long as there are cars moving. I've been in a lot of derbies in the big cars, here, at Racine and Grayslake, but this is the first time I've won one. I'll definitely be back next year."

Dan Blough followed Schmidt in the small car finale in second and Andy Wehler third.

The small car heat was conducted in an unusual fashion with the 'winner' actually being the car that crossed the finish line second.

LET'S GO RACING

Michael H. Babicz

In addition, the drivers had to back the cars around the one-third mile clay oval in reverse, going clockwise around the track instead of the conventional counter-clockwise. Randy Lewis of Antioch ended up out maneuvering Blough to score the win.

The team of John Blaski and Rick Able won the Olympic Bowling Ball Relay. The relay event featured drivers going backwards around the track in reverse, then having to 'hand off' a bowling pin to their partner through the driver's window, then complete a lap in reverse.

The obstacle course, which featured a driver getting out of their car to put a tire on the roof, then a folding chair, then another tire, and winding through a barrel 'slalom course,' trying to get to the opposite end first. Kevin Brown scored the victory in a close finish despite several miscues and having to get out and pick up tires which fell off.

The Night of Destruction closed out the 2000 Season for Premier Racing Productions Wilmot Speedway. Promoters Debbie and Andy Calin of Premier Racing Productions, Inc. thanked all of the track personnel, the competitors and especially the fans for their support throughout the year.

The 2001 opener, which will mark Wilmot's 50th Anniversary Season, is scheduled for May, 2001 with the exact date to be announced.

'Dr. Tooth,' the 39-year-old racing dentist from the Antioch Dental Center, Dr. Ken Johnson scored his third mini-modified crown with a second place finish in the season championship feature. The mini-modified championships were part of the Fourth Annual Small Car World Championships which opened Lake Geneva Raceway's October Classic Festival Sept. 29 which ran through Oct. 1.

Duck Wack of Paddock Lake fended off the repeated drillings from his neighbor and good friend to score his third feature win of the season. Johnson was second with Joe Miller of Kenosha third, 17-year-old Antioch High School junior Lee Morrison was fourth followed by his Dad, Roy Morrison, in fifth. Johnson and the elder Morrison won the heat races with the Doctor setting a new qualifying record in time trials with a lap of :17.806 seconds for the one-third mile banked oval.

Promoter Kevin Dawson announced the next regular Friday racing program will be held May 25, 2001. In addition, Herb's Inc. of Antioch has come on board to sponsor the mini-modifieds for weekly Friday racing in 2001 at Lake Geneva.

Lake Geneva concludes its season on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 22 with the Midwest Enduro Stock Car Series season championship in the original Goblin 250. A children's costume contest plus an added 'First Annual Dirt Bowl Challenge' featuring competitors from Lake Geneva and Wilmot in BIC cars are planned prior to the green flag for the 250-lap enduro. Pre-race festivities will begin at 12:30 p.m. with racing the enduro scheduled for 1 p.m.

Scalping the competition!

Tragically, over five million dogs are abandoned every year because of behavioral problems.*

The real tragedy is, most of them could have been helped.

Behavioral problems, such as biting, growling, howling, destroying things, and urinating or defecating when left alone, are the number-one reason that dogs are abandoned, left in shelters or euthanized. But now, veterinarians have effective and innovative new ways of treating behavioral problems. So, if you're concerned about your dog's behavior, schedule an appointment with your family veterinarian today.

COUNTY DIGEST

New web page

The Lake County Metropolitan Enforcement Group web page offers the public an opportunity to learn and see what illegal drugs look like, what physical effects and characteristics drugs have on users and warnings about health problems related to the use of each particular drug.

The Internet site also has a fugitive section for the most serious of LCMEG drug offenders currently at large. The site also offers an area for Lake County residents to report illegal activity related to drugs, gangs and guns. Each complaint will be investigated, even those received anonymously.

LCMEG Director Terry Lemming said, "This web site provides an additional outlet for the public to report criminal activity."

For further information, call Terry Lemming at 680-6688 or browse for www.lakecountymeg.org.

Judges needed

In all countywide elections, the County Clerk's office employs over 2,000 election judges to serve in the 403 precincts in Lake County. Currently the County Clerk's office is actively recruiting new election judges to assure that each precinct has five election judges to work on election day.

"Election judges are the backbone of an election," noted County Clerk Willard Helander. "We could not effectively conduct any election without the dedication of our enthusiastic, civic-minded, well-trained judges."

For more information, call 360-3611.

Restrictions lifted on FWA, Chain

Fall boating season on the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes resumed after restrictions were relieved by the Fox Waterway Agency.

This portion of the Fox Waterway had been under no-wake boating restrictions since Sept. 25, due to high water levels caused by heavy rainfall Sept. 22 and 23. The Stratton Lock and Dam in McHenry received 2.64 inches of rainfall during that 24-hour period.

The water level at 8 a.m. Sept. 29 at Stratton Lock and Dam was 1.8 inches above the no-wake threshold, at Johnsburg, .6 inches above the no-wake threshold, and on the Chain, 2 to 3 inches below the no-wake threshold.

"The weather has cooperated and allowed water levels to fall low enough so we can open the Fox River to normal boating in time for the weekend," said FWA Executive Director Ingrid Enriquez.

Boaters are advised to be on the lookout for floating debris due to the high water levels.

For up-to-the-minute boating conditions, call the FWA office, 587-8540, or check the FWA web site at www.foxwaterway.state.il.us for daily updates. To report floating debris or other customer concerns, call the FWA office and press "O" to speak to the Customer Relations Specialist.

Family traditions seldom make their way to a level where they can touch a large group of people outside of the family. Hilda Schryver saw an opportunity for others to enjoy a tradition of her husband's family, including delegates at the Republican National Convention this summer.

"Every time that there was a grandchild born (or brought into the family), they got an elephant pillow," she explained, displaying a worn and tattered orange pillow shaped like an elephant.

Lucile Leaders Monsees, the family matriarch who died two years ago at age 101, made the toys for the children. Her daughter, Irene

Local firm helps families with special needs kids cut through red tape

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Individual families searching for help in assisting children with special needs may find a formidable foe in state and federal bureaucracies.

Enter the Oak Experience. The Vernon Hills-based firm will create workbooks to help families with special needs and will provide qualitative market research with a professional focus group moderator.

Mary Anne Ehlert and Jan Bednarz have had strong personal ties with not-for-profit organizations for many years. The Oak Experience unveiled its offices, complete with the photography of Ray Ehlert, at Lakeview Parkway.

"There is a great bureaucracy in the way of families whose children have special needs, from social security forms. People try and go through the process on their own and do not know the process. We want families

Ingleside handyman works 'for the ladies'

An Ingleside man is using his knowledge of everyday repair work to find a niche in lending a hand.

Randy Krotz owns "Ladies' Man," a business he started two years ago.

"I have been in the home repair and remodeling business for 12 years. I designed the logo for the market place of divorcees, singles and finishing jobs—nothing major," Krotz said.

He described his business as "home repair with a flair." The logo is a repairman with a top hat and cane.

"I do a lot of pesky projects that people do not have the time for, such as drywall repair, carpentry, painting, general maintenance and tile vinyl and ceramic."

Krotz, 54, said one frequent use of his skills occurs when husbands "may start a project and find out it is too big for them."

Or when "someone makes a mistake and you have to start from scratch," he said.

He does most of the work himself, "but there are several guys I can call on if I need help."

Krotz, who is retired, said the business keeps him busy. For more information, call 587-8029.

Parking expansion approved for CLC's Southlake Center

The College of Lake County board trustees has approved a project that will expand parking from 65 to 200 spaces at the Southlake Educational Center in Vernon Hills. The project will also include road repaving and expansion of stormwater detention. The board awarded the construction contract to Maneval Construction Co., Inc. of Grayslake for $341,619. The project is scheduled to be completed this fall.

In other action, the board accepted the fiscal year 2000 audit report from KPMG, LLP, a Chicago-based accounting firm. Peter Krupczak, vice president for administrative affairs, said that the report indicated that the college's fiscal condition is sound and well managed. The board authorized the administration to file the audit with the Illinois Community College Board and appropriate federal agencies.

The board also adopted a resolution to recommend three firms to the Capital Development Board (CDB) for consideration as architects for the new technology building to be built at the Grayslake Campus. The architects, submitted in the order of preference, are Legat Architects (Waukegan), Ross Barney & Jankowski Architects (Chicago) and DLR Group (Chicago). State funds have been approved for planning the technology building, and the project will begin after CDB selects a firm.

The board also accepted several grants. Among them is a grant for $210,000 from the Illinois Community College Board to provide short-term training in various allied health career fields for 100 unemployed and under-employed individuals and welfare recipients. Also accepted were $24,000 from the Illinois Board of Higher Education for an internship program for graduate students to teach English at CLC; $16,125 from the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs for the procurement technical assistance center; and $1,800 from the Illinois Law Enforcement Training and Standards Board to be applied to a juvenile officer training program.

In other action, the board supported the college's participation in Illinois Community Colleges On-line, an initiative by the Illinois Community College Board to simplify access to on-line courses and programs. The college will participate in the initiative during the 2000-2001 academic year.

In purchasing, the board approved a contract with Boller Construction Co., Inc. of Waukegan, for $248,000, to renovate 11 restrooms at the Grayslake Campus to comply with the Americans with the Disabilities Act guidelines. Additionally, the board approved a bid for $59,350 to purchase 25 Cisco Network Routers from custom Fit, Inc. of Chantilly, Va., and a bid for $38,009 to purchase Cisco network equipment from CTG, Inc. of Springfield.

In personnel matters, the board appointed Marcy Thompson to the administrative position of director of Job Readiness Programs, a grant-funded position.

Bednarz and Ehlert met with focus groups and discovered their needs.

"There are needs for zero to 3 years-old, another set of school-age, and more needs of people age 18 in a transitional stage. They may be able to live with others of special circumstances or in a facility. Illinois seems to be far behind other states," Bednarz said.

Bednarz said sometimes those over 18 are found waiting for the facility. "One family has a 2-year-old whose name was placed on a facility's waiting list," she said. "Another family has three over-18-children of special needs at a variety of levels."

Even hiring attorneys to help cut through the red tape is not a 100 percent cure, Bednarz said.

Back new funding to buy more land for Forest Preserve

There are compelling reasons why voters will do well to support new funding for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. in a referendum proposal Nov. 7. Not the least of arguments supporting the issuance of $85 million in bonds is the rapidly diminishing supply of available lands for acquisition of public open space.

Forest Preserve Dist. officials are correct in pointing out that prices for suitable land are relatively reasonable. Bond interest rates are low. The people of Lake County are enjoying good economic times so they can afford the increase in taxes to support retirement of bonds.

Another point in favor of the district growth program (actually two issues on ballot) is the ever increasing popularity of the preserves and what's going on with the publicly owned lands. People like the growing system of all-purpose trails. District golf courses are crowded. There is avid support for wildlife and habitat preservation programs. The attractive Colonial-style visitors center at Ryerson Woods fairly hums with student visitors at various times during the school year. Individuals and groups make full use of the 22 picnic shelters available countywide. There is a world-class museum at Lakewood, Wauconda. In short, the Lake County Forest Preserves have become everything expected—and more.

Underlying the participation and support on the part of citizens in existing programs is an appreciation that expansion of the forest preserve system is a viable alternative—and less costly alternative—to a continuation of unbridled growth and development. Taxpayers have come to understand the linkage between expanding public lands and the cost to society that accompanies the building of more rooftops and strip malls.

The two questions being put before voters Nov. 7 cover the issuance of $85 million in bonds for land acquisition, habitat restoration, expansion of trails and general preserve improvements, and a separate question on increasing the maximum tax rate .012 that will translate into an additional $2 million for safety, maintenance and operations.

Based on a home with a market value of $250,000, the total impact for both questions on a tax bill is estimated at $44.67 annually.

Lake County residents can be justifiably proud that the commissioners they have elected to run their forest preserves are doing a bang-up job. Their accomplishments have achieved national acclaim. The corporate tax rate has not increased since 1986. During that time, acres preserved has grown to more than 9,000.

Proceeds of an authorized bond issue have been depleted with worthwhile purchases. Approximately $150 million worth of valuable land has been offered to the district by willing sellers, much of it at below market prices.

Even with new funding made available Nov. 7 by a supportive public, there will still be land acquisition opportunities left untouched. Now is not the time to adopt a status quo posture. The time is now to keep the forest preserve system growing.

Helping hand for immigrants

Picture yourself in a foreign country not knowing the language. Bewildered, confused, frightened at times. Where do you turn for guidance? Where can help be found?

Now you know how many members of Lake County's fastest growing immigrant group feel, explained Ed Soto, chairman of the board of directors of Mano-A-Mano (hand-to-hand), a resource center for Hispanics and other newcomers.

The center is located in Round Lake Park where one of the heaviest concentrations of Lake County Hispanics reside. Organized by local residents and launched with a $100,000 state grant, the center will concentrate on teaching English, but will also offer help with literacy, computer familiarization and parenting.

Although geared for Hispanics, Mano-A-Mano's doors will be open to all immigrants who face a language barrier and are in need of counseling. As Soto emphasized at a grand opening celebration, the aim of the center is to provide people with tools, not handouts.

In an earlier time, America's newcomers found help at churches and cultural organizations. Or immigrants learned as best they could on their own. Government wasn't a part of the assimilation process. But it is today. That's the reality society faces. The key, as leaders of the resource center emphasize, is providing newcomers with knowledge and information to make their own way. Mano-A-Mano is not a relief agency.

Leftward leaning a media reality

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Bill and Hillary often wail about the "vast right wing conspiracy." Strangely, there is nary a word of complaint from conservatives and Republicans about the "vast left wing conspiracy."

Reason? Complaints tend to come off as whiny expressions of weakness, whatever the source. GOP protestations probably wouldn't get reported anyway. Why? Because of the very real liberal bias in the media.

Surveys have pretty well established the leftward tilt in the media, especially among network news and media professionals writing for the nation's opinion-making newspapers. Statistics show members of the press well above the 80th percentile in their preference for Democrat candidates and policies.

The entrenchment of a liberal philosophy among those who influence public thinking goes beyond the media. One of our favorite columnists, Jeffrey Hart, who is syndicated through King Features, wrote about a survey of the Dartmouth College faculty to illustrate lop-sided political thought favoring the left. To our knowledge, Hart's column is not carried by any newspapers in northeastern Illinois.

Hart reported that the sample of Dartmouth faculty is 79 percent Democratic, 18 percent Independent and 3 percent Republican. Democrats outnumbered Republicans 25-1 in five different academic departments—government, religion, philosophy, history and English.

There shouldn't be any guess about which way Dartmouth students lean after the indoctrination they receive during impressionable college years. For the Dartmouth grads who wind up in the media, they'll probably be viewing the world of politics with a left-leaning perspective. And if they become writers for late night TV comics, conservatives won't have a chance.

But don't complain, Republicans. It won't do you any good.

Desert escape

It took four years of "suffering" in the desert heat of Arizona to convince Bill Findling that Lakeland is the place to be. Findling has re-about whom to support for president. One of the milder messages recommended: "Don't feel sorry for Gary. He is right. Gore wins the election because you die-hard Republicans backed the wrong candidate. Again, Gore gets our vote, too." So there!

More or less

Restless high school students will love to hear what Dr. Keith Sanders, executive director of the Illinois Dept. of Higher Education, has to say about the rigid system of four years for high school. Let some students take five years to graduate, Dr. Sanders related in a talk at College of Lake County. If they've mastered requirements in three years and are ready to move on with their lives, students should be able to leave high school, he stated. "Let the students set their own pace," Sanders emphasized.

Track history

Before Arlington Heights became a mecca for thoroughbred horse racing there was Libertyville with trotters and pacers. An old plat book from 1907 on display in the Cook House operated by the Wauconda Historical Society documents that the Lake County Fair Grounds track was operating at what today is Lake Minear and a track was located on the west side of Libertyville, run by the Chicago Milwaukee Electric Libertyville Trotting Assn.

Forest Preserve vote—investment for future

The other day, I was asked by a gentleman what I thought of the Lake County Forest Preserve putting a referendum on the November ballot asking for $85 million dollars when they had received approval in April of 1999 for $55 million. His tone of voice made it obvious to me that he was dead set against it, and he probably thought that I was, too, since I have always been fairly conservative about raising property taxes.

I'm all for it, I answered quickly. I'm sure that none of it will be spent in my home town. But, those who live along the eastern portion of Lake County must realize that preserving open space in all of Lake County is good for them, too.

Whenever I am in Chicago and view the lakefront, I marvel that one person's vision was responsible for preserving the natural beauty of the lakefront. The Burnham Plan was an investment, and a treasure, for future generations. You don't have to live in Chicago to admire and appreciate it.

When I would return from Chicago by train and often get off at Waukegan, I would look at the cement silos and other unsightly structures. I would think of what could have been. I realize that many companies along the lake provided jobs, but I always returned to the thought that if a city the size of Chicago could protect its lakefront, why not smaller communities? What it takes is vision, foresight, and a plan.

SEEING IT THROUGH

Preserving a part of our Lake County landscape doesn't come free. But, really, allowing development to run rampant throughout Lake County doesn't come free, either. Just ask others who have referenda in their communities to seek tax-hikes for schools and other amenities caused by the housing sprawl in the county. When you consider the traffic gridlock that sprawl causes, it becomes burdensome no matter where you live in Lake County.

The voters in Lake County can be fickle. They won't just go along with anything when it comes to passing referenda questions. You had better make your case. In asking for more funds in less than two years after a fund increase was approved, the forest preserve district is taking a risk.

I believe, though, that the district is taking the proper risk. The voters, I believe, have been shown that the district has acted responsibly in the land acquisitions that it has made. The time is crucial for more land buys; otherwise land will be gobbled up at even higher cost.

Also, I applaud the district for holding the referendum at a November general election. Many taxing bodies like to hold their tax referenda when the least number of people will vote. During a November election when we elect our president, the turnout should be high, certainly higher than at local elections.

Passing any referendum is never a sure thing. Property taxes are high. Some voters vote no whatever the issue. There are competing referenda, and every taxing body will fight for its own increase. And, even when a voter may feel that all of the issues have merit, it may not be practical to vote yes on all of them. Any taxing body knows that.

When you examine your tax bill, which just became due, and you see what you contribute to the forest preserve and you look at the vastness of the properties that are preserved for us and for future generations, I believe that it is a priceless investment for Lake County.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Supervisors gauging chance for 2001 race

Some are in; some are out. And some are on the way out depending on how political winds blow. That's a snapshot of what's happening in Lake County townships as the consolidated election for 2001 shapes up.

Veteran Zion Township Supervisor Truman Hudson already is campaigning for another term. The retired Warren High bandmaster still can blow sweet notes with his trusty trumpet and his political notes are easy on the ear, too. Hudson is getting his slate together.

Lake Villa Township Supervisor Sue Hanson, dogged by wrangling among members of the official family, likely will not seek re-election.

In Ela Township, the same political activists who put Supervisor Bob Grever into office two decades ago, now are charting his retirement. They say the handwriting was on the wall when Grever was unsuccessful last spring winning a Republican nomination for another four years on the County Board. Grever has been beset by personal problems and his political alliances in county government have been replaced by the new GOP smart growth, environmentally conscious majority.

Two sages of township government, Libertyville Supervisor Mike Graham, and Vernon Hills Supervisor Bill Peterson, who also doubles as state senator representing a large swath of west Lake County, are stronger than ever and give every indication of running for re-election. Popular Peterson likely will have something to say about his township plans at his annual brunch, Sunday, Oct. 29, at Lincolnshire Marriott Resort, a "must" event on the agenda of scores of Republican partisans.

Song leader

ten referred as the most powerful politician in Illinois, proved himself to be an able song leader as well, leading a rousing rendition of "Sweet Adeline" at the tribute to State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) at Holiday Inn, Gurnee. The powerful DuPage County Republican surprised Geo-Karis admirers with his soft-spoken style.

Demo invasion

A flock of Democratic state senators, members of the Illinois State Senate Democratic Caucus, will gather at Hotel Moraine, Highwood, Wednesday, Oct. 11 to signify support for the re-election effort of State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills). The event will be a major fund-raiser for Link who said his opponent, Greg Kazarlan, is getting touchy about the flow of campaign money into the 30th District. Link supporters insist the race could become the most expensive legislative contest in history—even if Sen. Link doesn't spend a dime. The Link team is charging that Pete Phillip is orchestrating the Kazarian effort.

Willard's site

For Internet users in search of election information, County Clerk Willard Helder has a web site: www.co.lake.il.us/cntyclerk. You can find information on polling places, voter registration, absentee voting and election results.

School costs

Residents of the Lake Zurich area who regard themselves as owning an average-priced home will pay an additional $543.14 in real estate taxes per year if a $65 million building bond issue and a 43-cent education tax rate is approved Nov. 7. The tax increase figure is based on a home carrying a $250,000 market value.

Homes demolished

Twenty-three more homes in flood-prone Williams Park, Wauconda, are targeted for demolition in a buyout plan next year to eliminate homes in the flood plain. That will bring the total to 47 homes of purchases in a federally supported stormwater management plan.

Run scared

Retiring Republican Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) says he has given GOP nominee Mark Steven Kirk only one piece of advice. "Run scared. Run like you're behind." After hearing this, a smiling Kirk said he is ignoring polls showing him ahead or even with Democratic State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-Highland Park).

Two left

There are two founders alive who organized the Lake County Republican Federation 38 years ago. Both of them, Robert (Bob) Stuart and Gordon Smith both attended the federation's annual meeting.

AT A GLANCE

A DIGEST OF STORIES
MAKING HEADLINES
THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Mayor seeks gun safety resolution

Grayslake—In light of three separate instances within village limits involving guns the week of Sept. 17, coupled with numerous violations observed at the Sept. 17 Lake County Sportsmen's Gun Show, Mayor Pat Carey wants to reaffirm the village's opinions on gun safety with a resolution.

The violations cited at the gun show included an unsecured Smith & Wesson pistol at the show's management table, as well as unlocked and open display cases containing pistols in several of the show buildings.

Videos lead to underage sex arrest

Antioch—Rebecca Michalak, 29, of the 42700 block of North Lake Ave. in Antioch, remains in custody at the Lake County Jail for two counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse and one count of child pornography for having videotaped sex with an ex-boyfriend's minor son.

The charges were brought when her former boyfriend found videotapes of Michalak with his 15-year-old son and one of his son's friends. The man brought those tapes to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept.

Moldy school causes worry

Round Lake—Area parents voiced their concerns about the cleanliness of W.J. Murphy Elementary in Round Lake Area Consolidated School Dist. 116.

The parents claimed the school is rife with mold among other health concerns.

One mother, Deanna Ruiz, who has a daughter in the second grade at Murphy claimed that during curriculum night, about three members of the faculty showed the parents a class room where the mold was all over the floor tiles.

"We were told a little while ago about the problem at Murphy," said Dist. 116 school board president Laura McGuire. "We're trying to get the mold taken care of and keep it in check. It's a bad problem we're addressing."

Six Flags unveils coaster design

Gurnee—Representatives from Six Flags Great America unveiled a prototype for a new roller coaster at the theme park during a Gurnee Zoning Board of Appeals meeting.

On the proposed attraction, riders will board the train and be hoisted up to the top of one of two towers. The train is released and drops down the tower. It then goes through what is known as a "boomerang," sending riders through a double loop as the track makes a 180 degree turn. After passing through a vertical loop, the train goes up another tower, which is parallel to its twin. Riders then experience the ride again, but in reverse.

Library offers to buy Brainerd property

Libertyville—In a letter of intent, Cook Memorial Library officials have notified Libertyville High School Dist. 128 board members that they are interested in purchasing the school's Brainerd building.

The offer of $2.7 million caught some school board members off guard however, as the school has already made plans to rent space inside the Brainerd building to private corporations. Dist. 128 also uses land on the site for athletic events, which makes it highly unlikely that they will sell the property.

Town mourns death of former resident

Spring Grove—The Spring Grove community is in mourning due to the murder of a long-time resident.

Kristin Marie Popelka, 22, was found dead in the kitchen of her apartment at 21410 S. Goebbert Rd. in Arlington Heights by her boyfriend the morning of Sept. 28. A Chicago woman, Irene A. Romaniuk, 30, of 8524 Catherine St., was charged with first-degree murder, home invasion and residential burglary in the case.

Popelka was a graduate of Richmond-Burton High School and Spring Grove Elementary School. She had moved to the Arlington Heights apartment building about a year ago.

There is a downside for living in an urban area. It can become too urbanized. Lake County will never become what it once was, a combination of urban and rural area with rolling farms and wide open spaces. But, through the forest preserve district, we can preserve and maintain much of the open spaces here.

On Nov. 7, we can contribute our share and invest in the future. Just as I have appreciated what a past generation did to preserve the Lake Michigan skyline in Chicago, future generations will appreciate our vision to preserve a great part of the Lake County landscape.

Thanks for registration drive

I would like to take this opportunity to offer my sincerest thanks to all who participated in the voter registration drive held on Aug. 26 at local Jewel-Osco stores in Lake County. This date was selected in observance of the 80th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th amendment which secured women's right to vote. The service and efforts of all the volunteer deputy registrars made this occasion a success.

I offer a special thank you to Mary Reljic of the Lake County Women's Coalition for suggesting this very fitting observance, and again to Mary and Jean Hastings of the Libertyville/Mundelein Chapter of the League of Women Voters for their efforts to secure many of our volunteers. I also wish to applaud the volunteer efforts made by Altrusa, the Association of American University Women, the American Business Women's Association, Aux Plaines Chapter 99, ERA of Illinois, the Lake County Women's Coalition, the League of Women Voters, Links North Shore, Women Interested in Government (WINGS), and the YWCA. I would like to recognize and thank Lake County Jewel-Osco stores and their corporate office for their cooperation and graciousness in hosting this event. The successful partnership of the many people and organizations involved has facilitated a greater overall service to our communities. Thank you all.

Halloween treats don't need to be totally sweet

When summer ends and the leaves begin to change color, the celebration of Halloween is just around the corner. While costumes take center stage at this time of year, the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center is encouraging families to focus more attention on Halloween treats.

A new dietary guideline focuses attention on sugar intake. The guideline, "Moderate your intake of sugars," is self-explanatory, but easier said than done. Americans have been continuously consuming more sugar, and not only from recognizable sources like soft drinks, cakes, cookies, pies, fruit drinks and candies. "Hidden" sources of sugars such as sucrose, honey, corn sweetener, and high-fructose corn syrup are found in a variety of foods not necessarily thought of as "sweets."

Sugar has a potential negative effect on our health. Increased sugar intake may be responsible for unfavorable health effects from tooth decay to elevated blood triglycerides. Additionally, an increase in sugar intake may be one of the underlying factors contributing to an increase of obesity in our country.

"Many of the high sugar foods represent extra calories without the benefit of vitamins, minerals or nutrients," said Toby Stern, R.D., L.D., a registered dietitian with the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center and a spokesperson for the Illinois Dietetic Association.

The solution is moderation. Halloween is a perfect opportunity to begin to moderate sugar intake. What can you offer children who ring your doorbell asking, "Trick or Treat?" To get you started, here are some examples of treats to choose: Peanuts, crackers, dried fruit (raisins, apricots, apples), pretzels, animal cookies, gingersnaps, granola bars, fresh fruit, trail mix, money (change).

The Health Department suggests that sweets can be a part of a healthy eating plan. We encourage families to exercise moderation and make alternative food choices available.

Kid's nightmares can mean something...or not

Dear Dr. Singer,

Our 7 year old daughter has been having nightmares lately and we wondered if this might be indicating a problem? We are concerned that something bad might be happening to her in her life and she is not telling us. We've tried to talk to her about it but we aren't getting anywhere. It's gotten to the point that she is afraid to go to sleep at night. We are very concerned. Should we wait and see if it passes or should we get some help now? T.G.

Dear T.G.,

While I can give you some general information here in this column, I think that it's important that you realize that without my having a history and other knowledge of this child and your family, it is unethical of me to give you direct advice unless you want to come in and see me. I will say, however, that the best place you can find that answer is in your own gut. If you are feeling that it is out of control or something scary might be going on in her life to cause these nightmares, it would probably be much better for all of your collective

"peace of mind's" if you took her in for a couple sessions to see about this problem. From your call, it sounds like you are very concerned so probably best to get her in for help now.

Nightmares are strange things. They can be directly related to something going on in life and then again, they don't have to be. Anyone who has ever had one, can tell you that they are very terrifying and can get in the way of healthy sleep. I've spoken with many children who superstitiously feel that if they talk about what was in the nightmare, it may come true. So, they keep their mouths shut and suffer alone with the thoughts. You might try to make sure that she understands that nightmares are just in her mind and that talking about it won't make it happen. Help her to feel safe so she can open up.

There is also the possibility that something is happening in her life that scares her. It can be routine change (sometimes routine change can be the scariest) or something out of the ordinary that has either made her uncomfortable or terrified her. Either way, it's worthwhile to check it out.

There is also the possibility that she has seen one too many scary movies or someone at school has told her about something scary. I can remember being 8 years old and having one of our neighbor's rotten friends tell me about the "legend of Mary Worth." This was the favorite story of

Looking forward to a future without needles

No needles for drugs and vaccines - a concept simple in theory but complex in technology and execution. However, Endorex Corporation (AMEX: DOR) a drug delivery company based in Lake Forest, IL, is at the forefront of research to allow drugs such as insulin, human growth hormone, vaccines, and potentially many others to be taken orally instead of by often-painful shots. It is not difficult to understand why this would be a very popular development in healthcare.

Receiving shots is a particularly big problem for children. The U.S. pediatric immunization schedule calls for up to 21 separate shots during the first two years of life! Even after this period, children will receive further injections. For example, kids with growth hormone deficiency or severe allergies receive several weekly injections for up to 2 years or children with insulin dependent diabetes receive several injections a day for life. It is no wonder pediatricians estimate that 85 percent of their patients fear getting injections.

Needle-phobia is also prevalent among adults and is present in more than 15% of the population. When you consider the scope of drugs that must now be delivered by injections, it is easy to see why an oral alternative is desirable. Consider the following statistics: 50 million Americans get annual flu shots and 1.5 million diabetics get two to three insulin shots daily.

As compared to an injection, the swallowing of a pill or liquid is obviously preferable for most people. In medical terms, pills are expected to boost drug-taking compliance, particularly when factoring in such chronic conditions as diabetes and allergies, where shots are needed on a continuous basis. Furthermore, having a patient swallow a pill or drink a liquid is far more convenient and also less expensive than administering a shot. The impact on the overall healthcare system could be significant.

At the core of Endorex's efforts is the Orasome technology that has been licensed from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) for the oral delivery of selected drugs. Finding an effective way to encapsulate and protect these fragile drugs is crucial, since typically the molecules break down in the stomach and upper digestive tract before the molecules begin their therapeutic effect. Endorex's technology essentially wraps the drugs in a protective coating for their trip through the stomach and upper gastrointestinal tract, allowing them to be released in the lower intestine and eventually into the blood stream. Through this process, drugs taken orally can potentially be as effective as an injection.

As technology progresses, we may all be looking forward to a future with no more painful needles.

Health department expands immunization clinic hours

The Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center has added new hours to its Childhood Immunization Clinic at 2303 Dodge Ave. in Waukegan. In addition to its regular (walk-in) clinic hours of 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, it now provides morning clinics for infants, 0 to 2 years of age, by appointment on Mondays and Thursdays, from 9 to 11 a.m. This expansion is made possible by additional funding from the Illinois Department of Public Health.

"Protecting all children from vaccine preventable diseases such as measles, hepatitis or tetanus is the focus of the Health Department's immunization program," said the Health Department's Executive Director Dale Galassie.

The Health Department's Immunization Clinic, which has been active for more than 20 years, provides children with all the required vaccinations. Each child is thoroughly screened by an R.N. and the parent is advised about what vaccinations are needed and possible side effects. The parent is also given printed information. No vaccination is given without a parent's written consent. Each vaccination is $8. However, no child is denied if his/her family cannot afford the fee.

Parents are urged to bring the immunization records of their children with them and to always keep current and complete records. For more information, contact the Health Department at 360-3114.

Training shoe lifts athletes to new heights

Basketball players with gravity-defying vertical jumps are said to have "hops", while spiking specialists on a volleyball team need to have good "ups" in order to elevate above the net. Whatever you choose to call it, athletes from the junior high level to the professional level would love to improve their vertical leaping ability. New developments in the design of specialized training shoes are allowing athletes to do just that - and also reduce their risk of injury.

Plyometric platform shoes have been around since the mid 80's. In 1993, Jumpssoles came to market as the first plyometric platform that could be easily strapped on over regular shoes and easily taken off. The shoes are elevated 2 inches off the ground at the ball of the foot to train the user to walk and run on their toes. Similar to wearing high heel shoes without the heel, the calf muscles have to work overtime to keep the heel off the ground. By doing a series of plyometric exercises in these shoes, fast twitch muscle reflexes are developed which can translate to increased vertical jump - and running speed.

The popularity of this concept grew over the years. High school, college, and professional athletes from many different sports trained with the plyometric platform shoes. They included major league baseball, pro football, and pro basketball players inspired by endorsers such as NFL Hall of Fame safety Ronnie Lott and NBA Slam Dunk Champion Spud Webb.

Now the company that developed the Jumpssoles has unveiled the latest development in leg strength training with its Jumpssole Proprioceptor. John Kim, inventor of the original Jumpssoles realized that he could make the base of the platform a mini-wobble board, introducing proprioception to the workout. Kim quickly recognized the versatility the Jumpssole Proprioceptor provides athletes, from the everyday fitness buff to athletes in the collegiate and professional ranks. As a training device it enhances performance. As a rehab device it's both rehabilitative and "pre-habilitative".

A relatively obscure term until recently, proprioception is a scientific term for the body's awareness of balance. New training techniques have emerged which incorporate challenges to balance while doing resistance exercises. For example the military press could be done on a weight machine while standing on a wobble board. The challenge of lifting the weight is compounded by the added necessity of balancing on an unstable surface. A wider range of muscles are recruited as the body tries to stabilize itself, making for a more intense workout which more fully prepares the body for real world forces felt from all directions.

The San Francisco 49ers got word of the device and had some of their players with ankle sprains use the proprioceptors in their rehab program. Marv Marinovich, father of once highly recruited quarterback phenom Todd Marinovich, took to the Proprioceptors as well. He began incorporating them into his training sessions with elite up-and-coming and professional athletes.

Then came this year's cinderella Final Four basketball team, the University of Wisconsin. Tony Bennett, former NBA player and son of coach Dick Bennett, saw Marv Marinovich using the Jumpssole proprioceptors and had him design a program for the entire basketball team.

"The Jumpssoles Proprioceptors worked great," says Tony Bennett. "We used them extensively, even taking them on the road with us. And sure enough, we stayed remarkably healthy this year. No one missed a game due to a debilitating ankle or knee injury. Proprioceptive training of the lower leg has been for us the best insurance for staying healthy and playing strong throughout the year."

For more information about the Jumpssoles Proprioceptor, call 1-800-JUMP-USA. Another option is to visit www.jumpusa.com, a sports training Web site where the Jumpssoles Proprioceptors and other training equipment can be purchased. The site is a good resource for participants in baseball, football, basketball, tennis, golf, volleyball, strength training and more.

A look at Alzheimer's disease

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive, degenerative disease that results in impaired memory, thinking and behavior. It is the most common form of dementia (loss of intellectual function). It is a disease that destroys brain cells — which is not a normal part of aging.

Most people diagnosed with Alzheimer's care older than age 65; however, the disease can occur in people in their 30s, 40s and 50s. Men and women are affected almost equally. The Alzheimer's Association estimates one in ten persons over 65 and nearly half of those over 85 are afflicted.

More than seven out of ten people with Alzheimer's live at home. Almost 75 percent of home care is provided by family and friends. The remainder is paid care costing an average of $12,500 per year. Families pay almost all of that out-of-pocket.

For more information about Alzheimer's disease, support groups and services, call The Alzheimer's Association's nationwide 24-hour information and referral line at 1-800-272-3900 or call the Illinois Department on Aging's Senior HelpLine at 1-800-252-8966 (Voice and TTY).

Time to prepare your lawn for the cold season ahead

Preparing your lawn for winter can be a family affair. Some of the top items on the list are leaf raking, lawn care and pruning.

It doesn't look like it, and we all hate to admit it, but the end of summer is here. Although the annuals may be bursting with color and the lawn looks great, cool weather is just around the corner.

Just as everything growing has a season, so do the related tasks in your yard. It's time to consider how you're going to wrap things up for the season. Fall watering and fertilization help plants go into dormancy in good health and prepare them for a quick start when the weather warms next spring. Following are some tips your yard and garden will appreciate as they prepare to snuggle in for the winter.

First, give your lawn, shrubs and trees a good drink of water as they enter dormancy. It will prepare them for the freezing weather ahead. Healthy, well-watered roots are essential to giving plants the ability to transfer sugars and starches from their leaves to their roots. Storing energy in the roots during fall helps plants get a healthy start next spring.

Second, don't think of this as the end of the growing season but as the first step of the 2001 season.

Soil Test

Fall is an excellent time to test the soil of your lawn and garden for an accurate assessment of its condition. Test kits are available at your local nursery or through the county/university extension. These inexpensive kits test for soil acidity or alkalinity, as well as for the major plant nutrients.

The lawn

Filling In Thin Spots

Fall is the best time of year to fill in thin patches of lawn. Loosen the soil with a rake or shovel, spread the grass seed, and lightly rake, making sure it has good contact with the soil. Apply a thin layer of mulch and keep the area moist until the seedlings are well established.

Continue Mowing

Healthy grass grows well into the fall. Some cool-season grasses will continue to grow into November. Keep mowing as long as your lawn is growing.

So Many Leaves to Rake

It's a necessary chore and prevents leaves from smothering your lawn during the winter. A layer of wet leaves deprives grass of oxygen and makes it more prone to disease. Either mulch mow the leaves or remove the leaves for mulching at another location.

Dormant Fertilization

Homeowners in the snow-belt can get an early start on spring lawn care with dormant fertilization. By applying a slow-release, natural organic fertilizer in fall, homeowners can achieve:

- One to two weeks' earlier spring green-up.
- Good turf color and growth through mid-May.
- More rapid recovery of turf from winter damage.
- Turf that handles heavy foot traffic better.

Let Dormant Grass Lie

After the grass is dormant, minimize or completely avoid traffic on the lawn, especially when the grass is still green and covered with frost. Since it's dormant, it doesn't have the ability to recover, even though it may still be green.

So Much Snow

Huge piles of snow may be great for kids building forts, but it poses a concern for lawns: snow mold. By spreading snow over a larger area, you reduce the chances of snow mold becoming a problem.

When removing ice treated with an ice-melter from driveways and walks, spread it over a large area. If you concentrate this salty material just along the edge of the drive or walk, these areas may show signs of salt damage next spring.

Spring and Summer Perennials

Autumn is a good time of year to plant and divide spring- and summer-blooming perennials. In general, perennials planted in fall outperform those planted in spring. Mix a handful of Milorganite with the soil when planting perennials.

Planting, Fertilizing Trees and Shrubs

This is a good time of year to plant most trees and shrubs, if it is done before the end of October. Mulch and water the newly planted trees and shrubs regularly to help them become established before winter dormancy.

Pruning

Remove dead branches from shrubs and trees to eliminate places where insects and disease spores can winter. Pruning live tissue from trees and shrubs should cease in fall, as it encourages new growth that is vulnerable to cold.

Tree, Shrub Protection

Wrap plants with protective tape well above the anticipated level of snow to prevent varmint damage both under the snow cover and at the snow's surface. Plants that are near roads and are susceptible to salt spray should be covered with burlap. This will help prevent desiccation, or burning, of plant tissue during the winter.

Danger now lurks in the laundry room

Have you ever considered that drying a load of clothes could result in a house fire? According to the Chimney Safety Institute of America (CSIA) if you do laundry, you need to be aware of a danger that lurks in the laundry room.

The CSIA cautions that the obstruction or improper venting of clothes dryer exhaust ducts — whether for electric or natural gas dryers — can result in unnecessary deaths, injuries or property damage due to fire or carbon monoxide poisoning.

Statistics from the U.S. CHIMNEY and Vent CHECK

ger of lint plugging the exhaust duct has been minimal.

However, in today's complex and technologically sophisticated homes, many clothes dryers could be located in the inner core of the house in bedrooms, bathrooms, kitchens and even in hall closets. These new locations mean dryers need to be vented longer distances and sometimes even with sharp turns and bends to accommodate the structure of the home. These complicated systems make exhaust ducts harder to reach and also create more places where lint can collect and pile up.

"Because lint is incredibly flammable it poses a fire risk," adds Williamson.

The availability of natural gas clothes dryers is another reason why dryer exhaust duct maintenance is necessary. If a gas clothes dryer is not properly vented, it can cause carbon monoxide to be forced back into the home and that can be dangerous.

The CSIA recommends that clothes dryer exhaust duct inspections be performed by CSIA Certified Dryer Exhaust Duct Technicians™. These technicians have been formally tested in the proper inspection and maintenance of clothes dryer exhaust ducts by the CSIA.

For more information on maintenance and safety or for a list of CSIA Certified Dryer Exhaust Duct Technicians, contact the Chimney Safety Institute of America at (800) 536-0118.

Fall color more than just trees

Native grasses, wildflowers and trees in your Lake County Forest Preserves are putting on a magnificent show this fall. Through October, leaves will be ablaze with ever-changing colors, late blooming wildflowers will be out in full force and prairie grasses will put on brilliant fall displays.

"The prairies are just wonderful right now," says Nan Buckardt, Environmental Education manager at the Lake County Forest Preserves. Fields of bright yellow goldenrod and asters blooming a piercing purple against backdrops of bright red sumac."

The "turkey-foot" seedhead on big bluestem, Illinois' state prairie grass, turn purple this time of year. Prairie dropseed display deep red seedheads; and the "bottlebrushes" are obvious on woodland bottlebrush grass.

Not to discount the trees, "Sugar maples can turn the brightest orange, and with all the maples in Lake County, there should be quite a show, especially along the southern section of the Des Plaines River Trail and Greenway and at Ryerson Woods," says Buckardt. Oak trees take on rich shades of golden brown, hickories and willows yellow, dogwoods and sumac become red and ash trees unmask regal purples.

Leaves always contain several colors of pigments, but in spring and summer green chlorophyll mask the other colors. As the chlorophyll breaks down in autumn, yellow xanthophylls, orange carotenes and red, blue and purple anthocyanins are revealed.

Weather conditions during the next month directly effect the display of colors. Our recent combination of sunny days and cool nights should help maximize color display. Color should peak in Lake County around mid-October.

For more information on fall color watching in the Lake County Forest Preserves, fall nature programs, or for a free preserve packet, which includes a copy of the Forest Preserves quarterly newsletter, Horizons, call 968-3335.

Keep safety in focus, don't get burned

Fire safety begins with eliminating fire hazards. A simple message, but not something many of us take the time to act upon. With National Fire Safety Awareness Week slated for October 8 - 15 this year, now is the time to begin removing potential fire hazards from your home.

The CertainTeed Home Institute recommends undertaking the following room by room tasks for a more fire safe home this season:

The Kitchen

- Keep cooking surfaces free of grease buildups.
- Make sure curtains, napkins, pot holders and aprons are kept away from burners and heat.
- Check that major appliances such as the dishwasher and refrigerator are in working order. Clean them regularly and have them periodically maintained by a qualified service technician.
- Keep trash in covered containers and dispose of it regularly.

The Family Room

- Have chimneys and fireplaces professionally inspected by qualified technicians.
- Check space heaters for frayed or damaged wiring. Keep heaters at least three feet away from anything combustible including drapes and furniture.

The Living Room

- Move any furniture that blocks access to windows and doors.

The Bedroom

- Never smoke cigarettes, cigars or pipes in bed.

- Never use extension cords as permanent wiring. It is cause for trouble.
- Keep small appliances, such as hair dryers unplugged when not in use.

The Attic

- Check the insulation in your attic. If it is combustible, replace it with a more fire safe material. For example, cellulose insulation, made of ground up newspapers, can be a source of attic fires when installed too close to heat sources such as recessed lights. Replace cellulose with a noncombustible, high quality material like InsulSafe® 4 Blown-In Fiber Glass Insulation. InsulSafe will remain non-combustible for the life of a home.

The Basement

- If paints, thinners or gasoline are now in your home, remove them to an outside shed, if possible.
- Have your furnace professionally inspected by qualified technicians or fire officials at least once a year.

In addition, take precautions so you are prepared in the event a fire does break out. Make sure extinguishers are installed, fully charged and your family members know how to use them. Also make sure you have a smoke detector between each bedroom, at the head of each stairway and on each level in the rest of the house. Also develop and practice a family escape plan.

For more information on home safety, particularly relating to insulation and fire safety, write to the CertainTeed Home Institute, P.O. Box 860, Valley Forge, PA 19482, or call 1-800-782-8777 and ask for the "Insulation and Fire Safety" brochure. Also, visit us on the Internet at www.certainteed.com.

The women's team finished first in the conference standings with 12 points, 11 points ahead of second place Oakton. Freshman runner Katrina Weyland led the team and the entire meet with a personal best time of 20:52 on the 5,000 meter course. Stephanie Hess finished third overall with a personal best time of 22:52 and Jenny Hughes finished eighth overall with a time of 24:40. Marisol Fahnert (28:34) and Meghan Rafferty (31:42) also contributed with solid times.

The men's team finished in second place with 36 points, six points behind first place Waubonsee. Beder Toscano led the team with a second place showing thanks to a personal best time of 27:32 on the 8,000 meter course. Eric Johnson finished sixth with a time of 29:08, Brian Schoessow finished seventh (29:09), Mark Wagner finished ninth (29:32) and Chuck Patel finished 12th (30:30) to round out CLC's top five. Jeff Reiher (32:14), Juscalmed Patel (33:59), Jeremy Good (34:29) and Joe Gagla (44:53) all put forth good efforts.

Women's volleyball

The CLC women's volleyball team won their first Skyway conference game 15-8, 14-16, 15-8, 15-12 over Oakton on September 26.

Leading servers were: Connie Ramer (15 points, three aces), Amy Emskamp (14 points, two aces) and Amy Foley (nine points, eight aces). Leading spikers were: Emskamp with 10, Foley with eight and Michaline Sprovieri with seven. Emskamp also led the team in blocks with five while Sprovieri chipped in with three. Foley led the team in digs with 16 while Bree Chynoweth and Julie Peters added nine and seven, respectively. Nancy Bleim led the team in assists with 28.

"This is a win and we'll take it," said head coach Sue Garcia. "But we're struggling to get that win."

The Lancers won their second consecutive match to improve their record to 7-19 (1-2) with a 16-14, 11-15, 15-13, 6-15, 15-11 win over North Central College on September 28.

Leading server were Kaeleen O'Connell (18 points, five aces) and Chynoweth (14 points, six aces). Emskamp led the team in kills again with 13 followed by Sprovieri's 12 and Foley's 11. Emskamp also led the team in blocks again with five. O'Connell led the team in digs with 19 while Foley and Emskamp both chipped in with 14. Nancy Bleim led the team in assists again with 35.

"Serving has been one of our downfalls all season," said Garcia. "Tonight Kaeleen and Bree did a great job placing the serve and mixing up the serve speed."

"We are still rough around the edges," added Garcia. "But at the halfway point we are making good progress."

Women's tennis

The Lancers beat DuPage on September 27 by a score of 6-3.

Erika Johnson and Amanda Marundi won at No. 1 doubles by a score of 6-4, 2-6, 10-6. Stacey Haseman and Megan Schulmeister at No. 2 doubles also won their match in three sets with a score of 6-7, 6-1, 11-9. Johnson, Haseman and Pia Colina all won their singles matches.

CLC won again one day later against Oakton 7-2 to improve their record to 5-7, 3-1. Johnson was a winner at No. 2 singles with a score of 7-5, 6-4.

Men's soccer

The Lancers won their fifth consecutive match with a 2-0 win over Oakton on September 26 to improve their record to 5-1-2 (4-0). Drew Jung and Leonel Marban each had a goal and Juvenal Castrejon added an assist.

However, CLC's winning streak came to an end two days later against Morton by a score of 5-0.

On a related note, Castrejon and Dan O'Brien were both named to the CLC Soccer Invitational All-Tournament Team.

Men's golf

The Lancers fell out of first place in the Skyway Conference by one point by virtue of a third place showing in a conference meet at Blackberry Oaks in Bristol, Ill. on September 27.

CLC finished with a total score off 334, 17 strokes behind first place Moraine Valley who also assumed the lead in the conference. The Lancers were led by medalist Josh Navarro's score of 75 (39-36).

Women's soccer

CLC improved to 10-3 (4-0) with a 7-0 win over Harper on September 27.

Nicole Sowizdrzal had a goal and three assists and Lisa Langenberg had two goals in the victory while Nancy Rangel made several key saves in the opening minutes which Harper dominated but couldn't score.

"Once we found our legs it was all us," said head coach Dave Beck.

Men's Athlete of the Week

Cross country runner Eric Johnson wisely executed his game plan in finishing sixth place overall on the five mile course at Niles West with a time of 29:08 to assist the Lancers in a second place finish in the first of two Skyway Conference meets.

Stith

Mundelein native Julie Stith is making her mark while playing for the Clarke College women's volleyball team.

Stith, a sophomore, earned varsity letters in volleyball and soccer while at Carmel High School. She was named captain of the Corsair volleyball team three consecutive years.

Last season, Stith was named the recipient of the Crusader's Most Improved Player Award. Clarke College is a NCAA Division III member institution and a member of the Northern Illinois-Iowa Conference.

Stith is the daughter of Edward and Paulette Stith of Mundelein.

Clarke College has been named the winner of the 1999-2000 N.I.C.C. All-Sports Trophy.

Through four games, Tony Coniglio (Grant H.S.) has rushed for 106 yards on 35 carries for the Culver-Stockton College football team. Meanwhile, brother Jim has completed 3-of-3 passes for 11 yards while playing backup quarterback for the Wildcats. Jim has also caught seven passes for 135 yards and a touchdown.

Julianna Van Winkle (Libertyville, Libertyville H.S.) scored a first-half goal as the Rose-Hulman women's soccer team defeated Rhodes College, 3-2. Through seven games, Julianna has scored two goals and dished out two assists for the 5-3 Engineers.

Jamie Wismer (Antioch, IL, Antioch H.S.) scored a first-half goal in leading the Carthage College women's soccer team to a 4-2 win over Lakeland College. Jamie is a sophomore at the Kenosha-based school.

Wauconda's Grantham is not your average 13-year-old

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

Remember back when you were just 12 or 13-years-old and you wished that you were old enough to drive? Well, 13-year-old Brett Grantham of Wauconda is living every kid's fantasy each time he straps himself in to race in his junior dragster.

Grantham began racing go-karts since he was three and hasn't stopped racing since.

When he was nine, his parents Harry and Sandra Grantham bought him his first junior dragster for Christmas and he's been doing that for the past three years.

He wanted a junior dragster after seeing his friend Eric Rasmussen, his grandfather and father all drag race.

Since making his debut at the Greatlakes Dragway in Union Grove, Wis. in July 1998, Grantham has become one of the best junior dragsters in the country.

While Grantham runs the bulk of his races in Union Grove, he also races at US 41 in Milan, Ind., Gateway Raceway Park in St. Louis, Missouri, US 66 in Joliet, Ill., Cedar Falls Raceway in Cedar Falls, Iowa and Norwalk Raceway in Norwalk, Ohio.

Last year was a great year for Grantham on the track. At Union Grove, he won first place in the "Run What You Brung" race, a points race, the VP Fuels All-Star Race, a reaction time contest (.501 seconds) and second place in a reaction time contest (.514 seconds).

He also took first place in a points race at US 41 and in a qualification for Indy race in Cedar Fall, Iowa.

This year Grantham finally completed his new car, a project that took over a year. Now he runs a 2000 Woody Chassis (named after crew chief Woody Mays) with a three inch Briggs and Stratton Blockzilla engine and a Polar clutch. Everything on the car except for the tires is hand built. The car is capable of speeds nearing 100 MPH, but so far Brett has only gone as high as 85.

He now has one of the fastest cars in the country. Grantham's car won an award for best engineered car at the IHRA (International Hot Rod Association) Juniorfest 2000.

With this new car, 2000 has been an even bigger year for Brett. He won first place in a trophy race and, in perhaps his biggest victory, he took first place in the World Series of Junior Drag Racing at Cordova Dragway Park in Moline, Ill.

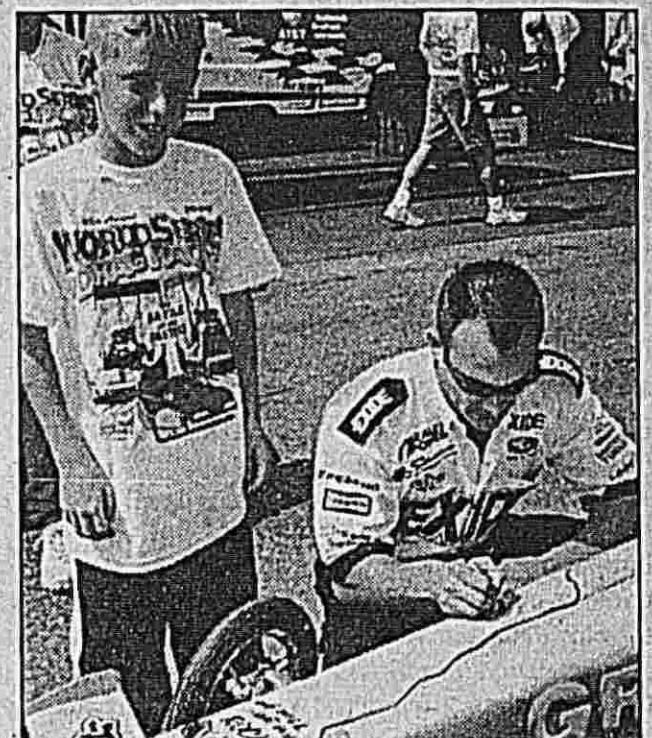

He also took second place in a reaction time contest, third place in reaction time at a Homecoming race, third place in dial-in and fourth place in day two of the World Series.

"When I race I'm only thinking about the [starting] tree," said Brett Grantham. "I'm not thinking about my friends or anything else but the car, the tree and the track."

With his new car, Brett had no further use of last year's car so he gave it to 12-year-old sister Natalie who is also a junior dragster.

In fact Natalie took third place in a trophy race, third place in a dial-in contest and first place in a Homecoming race.

Up next for Grantham is a VP Racing Fuels All-Star Race at Route 66 in Joliet, Ill. on October 14 and the Halloween Nationals in St. Louis on October 30-31.

Youth Soccer extravaganza Oct. 6

The Third Annual Youth Soccer Extravaganza will be held Friday night, Oct. 6 at 7:00 p.m. at Grayslake Community High School. The Soccer Extravaganza will be held on the Varsity Soccer field following the Homecoming pep rally. All youth soccer players in the Grayslake community are invited to attend this free event.

Activities will include a free raffle with the grand prize being an autographed Chicago Fire soccer ball and a soccer skills contest to be held at half-time of the game for selected youth soccer players. Prior to the start of the game against Lake Zurich, the youth players will form two lines for the varsity players to run through as they are introduced.

Youth players should wear their team jerseys (over their coats if it is cold) and sit with their teams. Free raffle tickets will be given to all youth players as they enter the home stands. All Grayslake youth soccer players are invited to attend this free event.

In its third year, the soccer extravaganza has grown considerably. Last year more than 150 youth players were on the field prior to the game. This year, we anticipate over 300 youth soccer players. This free event was created with the sole purpose of supporting youth soccer in Grayslake and to give the players something to look forward to when they enter high school.

Carmel hockey ices Warren in opener

Carmel hockey got off to a good start for the 2000-01 campaign after cruising past non-conference rival Warren 7-2 at The Lake County Ice Arena. Carmel led 1-0 after the first period and added two more goals for a 3-0 lead after two periods. The Corsairs, led by Eric Rose's hat trick, added four more scores in the final stanza. Also scoring for Carmel included Joe Mirretti, the team's leading scorer from last year, scored twice while Nolan Wilson and Pat Lynch also found the back of the net. Garcia and Gertzenbach scored for Warren.

Strong defensive performances were turned in by Adam Leman, Andrew Wallor, Pete Pioli, Drew Jayhan and Rob Allen.

Carmel goalie Dave Rogowski was stellar in the net, stopping 23-of-25 Blue Devil shots.

"This is definitely one of the best teams I've had," said head coach John Wallor. "We have all of our returning starters back from last year. We hope to be one of the best teams in the area."

Carmel, who finished in the middle of the Catholic Metro Division last year, lost a 6-5 heartbreaker to Niles North in the opener.

Rose scored the hat trick while Mirretti and Wilson added the other goals.

"It was unbelievable," added Wallor. "We led the entire way and just fell apart in the last period."

LAKELAND MEDIA MID-SEASON GRIDIRON REPORT

Big Northern (RED)

Johnsburg

Head Coach: Bob Bradshaw
Current record: 3-3, 0-2
Last year: 7-3, 4-1 (lost 1st rnd. 4A playoffs)

Key players: QB Brad Preston (So); FB/DE Craig Langohr (Sr); HB/LB Mike Davis (Sr); C/DL Geoff Foreman (Sr); G/DL Andy Foreman (Jr); K Adam Vesely (So); WR/S Pat Hastings (Sr).

Down the stretch: Johnsburg, no stranger to the post-season in recent years, must win its final three games to have a shot at the post-season. The Skyhawks feature Davis as the main threat in the backfield. This team has taken its share of lumps and bruises but nonetheless, continues to grow as the season has progressed, particularly in the play of its line. Key home games against Oregon Oct. 6 and Marengo Oct. 13 will have major impact on the conference standings as well as a possible trip to the post-season.

Mid-season grade: C

Catholic Metro (WHITE)

Carmel

Head Coach: Andy Bitto
Current record: 5-1, 3-1
Last year: 4-6, 3-2 (lost first rnd. Catholic Lg. playoffs)

Key players: QB Matt Roe (Jr.), RB Ben Lawrence (Sr), RB Eric Luna (Jr), DL Luke Larson (Sr), K Jon Mikrut (Sr)

Down the stretch: The Corsairs are off and running in the Catholic Metro (White) division with a 5-1 (3-1) record, their only loss coming at the hands of perennial powerhouse Marian Catholic. Carmel's running attack led by Matt Roe (346 yards, three TDs), Ben Lawrence (394 yards, five TDs) and Eric Luna (313 yards, three TDs) has given them leads that the outstanding defense has been able to protect so far. However, with the Corsairs having all but clinched a playoff spot, they will need to develop their passing game to advance in the playoffs. While all of their remaining games are important, be sure to circle October 20 on your calendar when Carmel will play powerhouse Joliet Catholic, possibly for the conference title.

Mid-season grade: A-

(A quick hit on Lakeland-Area teams)

Rob Backus, Steve Peterson and John Phelps contributed to this report.

Fox Valley

Grayslake

Head Coach: Dan Dillon
Current record: 1-5, 1-5
Last year: 4-5, 4-5

Key players: T/DT Dan Teschner (Sr); TBA/S Eric Flanders (Sr); QB Rhys Salomonson (Jr); DE Sam Stahnke (Sr); WR/CB Brian DeMeyer; WR/DB Aaron Bardy (Sr).

Down the stretch: The Rams are frustrated. They have been in every game except one. It all comes down to that famous term-execution. On paper, the talent is there but Grayslake can't punch it into the endzone when needed. To compound that, big plays by the opposition have hurt them. Flanders is one of the top rushers in the area with 616 yards and 8 TDs thus far. Salomonson is becoming more comfortable in the pocket and can scramble, as evident by his 406 yards and 4 TDs via the ground. Stahnke, Flanders, Demeyer and Teschner anchor a solid defense. The Rams need wins over Lake Zurich, Woodstock and Jacobs to equal its best-ever finish in the FVC (4-5). A homecoming victory over Lake Zurich Oct. 6 would certainly cure some of the blues.

Mid-season grade: D

North Suburban-Lake Warren

Head Coach: Dave Mohapp
Current record: 6-0, 2-0
Last year: 7-4, 5-2 (lost 2nd rnd. 6A playoffs)

Outlook: Two words-Matt Vandaele. The senior slasher is tearing up the area with close to 800 yards and 10 rushing TDs. And if you focus on Vandaele, chances are, Chase, Gruber and Justin Williams can more than hold their own. And oh, that Devil defense-not too shabby as it has recorded three shutouts while allowing only 28

Mid-season grade: A-

Libertyville

Head coach: Randy Kuceyeski
Current record: 5-1, (1-1)
Last year: 6-4, 4-3 (lost 1st rnd. 6A playoffs)

Key players: RB Gerett Burl (Jr), DB/K/P Mike Marquardt (Sr), RB Mike VerLee (Sr), RB Charles Williams (Jr), DE Marc Sears (Sr).

Outlook: The stage was set for perhaps the biggest game in North Suburban conference history on October 6 between Libertyville and Warren until Antioch threw a monkey-wrench into the Wildcats' plans for an undefeated season.

However, Libertyville is still an extremely talented team capable of beating anyone in the NSC. The running attack led by VerLee, Burl and Williams is among the best in Lake County and the stingy 46 defense has the ability to contain almost any running attack. Despite the loss, the Wildcats should still be able to coast into the playoffs and then anything can happen.

Mid-season grade: B+

Mundelein

Head Coach: Jeff Geary
Current record: 2-4, (0-2)
Last year: 2-7, 0-7

Key players: QB Adam Austin (Jr); RB Josh Gruenewald (Sr); WR Darius Kennedy (Sr); LB Jeff Longabaugh (Sr); FB Mike Vuocovics (Sr).

Outlook: It has been a season of contrast so far for the Mustangs. At times they have shown flashes of brilliance and at others they have looked utterly lost on the field. Mundelein has outstanding team speed on offense and they will need to take advantage of that and the strong passing arm of quarterback Adam Austin if they hope to finish out the season on a winning note. Darius Kennedy, one of the school's track stars, has close to 400 yards receiving while Austin has tossed for nearly 1,000 yards to date with one TD but 12 picks.

Mid-season grade: C-

North Suburban-Prairie Round Lake

Head coach: Kevin Dempsey
Current record: 2-4, (2-0)
Last year: 1-8

Outlook: The Panthers got off to a slow start, losing its first four games but has caught fire lately, winning two straight. All-around player Dallas Bassett has been the main cog in the offense. Case in point when the senior rumbled for 187 yards and five scores in last week's 39-12 win over Vernon Hills. Complimenting Bassett include Ryan Meyer and Kyle Quedens. Meanwhile, the defense has been more aggressive and will have to maintain the intensity if the Panthers want to stay in the thick of the Prairie race.

Mid-season grade: C

Wauconda

Head Coach: Bob Kasper
Current record: 1-5, 0-2
Last year: 4-5
Key players: LB Mike Stevens (Sr); RB Jason Sowle (Sr); WR/DB Steve Glomski (Jr); RB/DE B.J. Henningfeld (Sr).

Down the stretch: Wauconda won its first game and received rave reviews for bringing Chicago Orr to WHS for the entire day. But ever since, the season has not been positive for the Bulldogs. With games against Grant this week, Wauconda looks to play the spoiler role. QB duties have been split, with Jack Kopacz, a sophomore, and senior Brian Malone getting most of the snaps. The Bulldogs welcomed 36 players to Camp Duncan, up from 23 last year. With positive signs like that, it's only a matter of time before this team turns some heads.

Mid-season grade: C-

Grant

Head Coach: Mark Barczak
Current record: 3-3, 1-1
Last year: 9-2 (lost 2nd rnd. 4A playoffs)

Key players: QB/DB Eric Lemcke (Jr); RB/DB Matt Madlener (Sr); RB/LB Charlie Jasinski (Sr); WR/DE Dave Behm (Jr); G/LB Tyler Grischaeu (Jr); WR Rick Carlson (Sr).

Outlook: Grant was stopped by Zion-Benton 6-0 for its first shutout loss of the season. Grant still hopes to have a second straight playoff year, the first time in school history. Lemcke guides the offense, but has weapons in Carlson and Dennis and a solid offensive line. Jasinski anchors the defense.

Grant has a tough road to the playoffs with a loss in division play. A winning record may be a secondary but just-as-memorable goal. Key games for Grant include Wauconda at home Oct. 6, followed by road trips to Vernon Hills and North Chicago.

Mid-season grade: B

Vernon Hills

Head Coach: Tony Monken
Current record: 1-5, 0-2
Last year: Inaugural season
Key players: QB/S Jason Newburger (Jr); RB/LB Keith Heerdegen (So); WR/LB Chris Fisher (Jr); WR/LB Beau Jennings (Jr); OL/DL Ted Soenksen (Jr).

Outlook: They're experiencing the expected growing pains in their first year of existence. But everyone will be back next year, including the flashy QB Newburger, who is lighting up the area with over 900 yards passing and seven scores. Heerdegen has also been all over the place on offense and on special teams. Jennings and Soenksen are anchors on the defense. Head coach Tony Monken has a world of talent but needs to play with more aggression and keep the intensity for the full 48 minutes. Take your lumps and finish strong, Cougars, because with a senior-dominated team and the talent you have returning for next year, scary things are in store for the opposition.

Mid-season grade: C-

Some disappointing starters this year by the way include: Fred Taylor, Curtis Enis, Ryan Leaf, James Stewart and Keyshawn Johnson.

Remember, that Lakeland FFM is a monthly contest. Even if players are having a bad season, it doesn't matter to you. You only care about how many touchdowns they have in a month - not over the course of a season.

FANTASY FOOTBALL COMES TO LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Something new has come to Lakeland Newspapers this fall in the form of Fantasy Football Monthly. The new football contest challenges readers to pick NFL players from six different categories and hope that their players score more touchdowns than anybody else.

Each month readers will select their 12 players from the above categories. At the end of the month the reader who's team has the most total throwing, rushing and receiving touchdowns will win $100 from Lakeland Newspapers. Monthly winners will also be put in a drawing to win an authentic NFL football autographed by Chicago Bears star Jim Flanigan.

Enter by mailing this page with your picks, your name, address and daytime phone number to: FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY, Lakeland Media, 30 S. Whitney, Grayslake, IL 60030. Entries must be in Lakeland's hands no later than the Friday before the month begins. If an entry comes in after deadline - the picks will not count until the next month's contest. The contest will begin at the beginning of each month.

Lakeland will also publish tips and player news in a weekly fantasy football column each week. If you're a football fan, then join the millions of fantasy football players throughout the country by playing Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly.

Rinkside prepares for Halloween

By TIM O'DONNELL
Staff Reporter

Rink Side Sports and Family Entertainment Center is preparing for Halloween by offering a brand new experience called "Lazer Terror Tag."

Participants will begin their experience by strapping on a light-weight Lazer Tag vest and listening to a short briefing. The player then enters a haunted arena.

Once inside the crypt-like maze, players will encounter swirling fog, floating skeletons and giant cobwebs. Strobe lights and black lights will keep the atmosphere spooky as a frightening soundtrack pulsates in the background.

As in a regular game of Lazer Tag, players will score points by hitting targets placed through the arena and on other players' vests. At the end of the game, players receive a printed scorecard detailing their performance in "Lazer Terror Tag."

Each experience lasts 15-20 minutes and costs $5 per player. Lazer Terror Tag will open Oct. 13 and run through Oct. 31.

Rink Side Sports is located in Gurnee Mills near JC Penny and TJ Maxx.

CLC NOTES

Office automation classes

"Voice Recognition Software" and "Web Page Design Using Office 2000" are two special topics covered in classes offered by the College of Lake County in October.

"Voice Recognition Software" (BSS 299-003), a one-credit hour course, will be offered from 6:30-9:15 p.m. on Mondays, beginning Oct. 16 for five weeks. ## Man arrested in sting

By TIM O'DONNELL
Staff Reporter

A Grayslake man was arrested after an Internet sting operation.

Joseph Triggiano, 33, was arrested at Warren-Newport Library and charged with two counts of indecent solicitation of a child.

According to police, Triggiano had been in contact with "Lisa," who he had thought was a 15-year-old girl, via the Internet.

The person the subject had been in contact with was actually an investigator from the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center.

Triggiano had allegedly told "Lisa" he would meet her at the library and take her back to his apartment to have sexual relations.

When Triggiano stood outside the library on Sept. 27, he was met by the Gurnee Police instead.

The subject's bond was set at $25,000. The offense could be punishable by up to seven years in prison.

Composting class offered

Autumn is approaching and there are many garden activities suitable for that season, including composting. University of Illinois Extension in Lake County is offering a class on backyard composting, just in time for the arrival of all those autumn leaves. There is no charge for the class, but pre-registration is required.

"Backyard composting" will be offered on Oct. 11, 7-8:30 p.m. With autumn, comes the falling of the leaves. What will you do with all those leaves? Why not try composting? This class shows the proper way to compost in your own backyard. The focus is on sound composting techniques and clearing up the misconceptions about composting.

Pre-registration is required. To register, call the Extension office at 223-8627. The class will be held at the Extension office at 100 S. Highway 45 in Grayslake.

PET TALK By John J. Csiha

Owners sometimes treat their pets as children. They watch and hover, anticipate every need and jump to the medicine cabinet when they perceive fevers or aches and pains. Many well intentioned owners will administer fever-relievers to their pets and because of its safety for small children, acetaminophen is usually the medication they select. While acetaminophen (APAP) enjoys a reputation of safety and effectiveness for humans, it is probably one of the worst medications administered to a cat or dog. Acetaminophen represents the most common fatal drug poisoning in cats and has also been responsible for many deaths in dogs. While acetaminophen can be used safely in most dogs under the supervision of a veterinarian, there is no safe dose recommended for cats. APAP toxicity in cats is almost exclusively due to intentional administration by humans, and doses as small as 163 mg. (1/2 of a regular strength acetaminophen tablet) have resulted in death. Under no circumstances should an owner administer any anti-fever medication to a pet without a veterinarian's advice. Pets exhibiting aches and pains should also be evaluated by a veterinarian. If a pet ingests APAP, a veterinarian should be called upon immediately. The veterinarian will probably advise the owner to induce vomiting as soon as possible. This is typically accomplished through administration of ipecac to dogs or hydrogen peroxide to both cats and dogs. Your veterinarian will advise as to which doses of each product to use. It is important to tell the veterinarian how much the pet weighs, how much acetaminophen it consumed (or was given) and how long it has been since the acetaminophen was ingested. The best treatment for acetaminophen poisoning is prevention. While it may be one of the safest medications for administration to humans, its safety for pets cannot be assumed. Cats and dogs are not small humans. For the best outcome in pet health, administration of any medication should only occur under the guidance of a licensed veterinarian.

John J. Csiha is a Pharmacist specializing in compounding of veterinary prescriptions. He can be reached at Petranek's Pharmacy in downtown Libertyville.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: I had a poor work history for 6 or 7 years and decided to move away from all the trouble that was around me and start fresh. I moved out of state to live with my sister and was excited about starting a new life where no one knows me. I seem to be having a problem since I moved here with obtaining a job. It seems as though anything that I apply for I am turned away for one reason or another. The last place I applied to, told me that the reason they were "taking a pass" on me was that I had received unfavorable references from former employers. I will admit, I have had problems in the past with getting to work on time and all, but one of the reasons I moved out here was to start a new life. My sister said that she has read where you have helped others make changes in their careers when they may have had trouble before. What would you suggest I can do to make an employer want to take a chance on me. Please respond soon. Thank you. S.H. - via e-mail

A: Thank you for your mail. There is one word of advice I could give you to help you turn this situation around all on your own. "Honesty!" I have never turned away anyone who has come to me for help, when they were brutally honest. Sometimes, just being able to be honest with yourself, can make you realize what your short comings have been. Recognizing that your attendance was a problem is the first step here. Admitting to yourself what was the cause of your attendance problems is another step. The next step of course is to rid yourself of that past and move ahead. I would approach your next interview with enthusiasm and challenge. I would explain to the interviewer that while you have had problems in the past receiving favorable references, you realize that this is following you and you wish a chance to prove yourself. Of course, that is providing you are sincere about changing your ways. Once a company may agree to take you on and overlook these unfavorable references, you must show them that you mean business. I believe that everyone deserves a second chance. It's up to you now to make an employer feel that you were worth the risk. Good Luck.

White awards $13.3 million in public library Grants

Secretary of State and State Librarian Jesse White awarded more than 600 Illinois public libraries a total of $13.3 million in Fiscal Year 2001 per capita and equalization aid grants.

Per capita grants provide up to $1.25 per person based upon the population served by eligible public libraries, allowing the libraries to improve and increase essential services. Equalization aid grants assist public libraries in districts with a low tax base, and help ensure a minimum level of funding for library services. Both per capita and equalization aid grants may be used for any purpose but construction needs.

"These grants, which are appropriated each year by the General Assembly, will allow libraries both large and small to add to their collections, enhance their technology and provide a wider array of services to library patrons," White said. "Many public libraries depend on this assistance for essential needs."

White cited several examples of how public libraries plan to use the grants:

- After determining that as much as 15 percent of its population is now of Hispanic descent and reads Spanish, the Sterling Public Library will use part of its grant to purchase additional bilingual and Spanish language materials.
- The Vernon Area Public Library District in Lincolnshire will install six new Internet workstations to meet public demand.

CRIME STOPPERS

Stolen vehicle

Crimestoppers and the Winthrop Harbor police are seeking information regarding a stolen vehicle.

Sometime between June 27 at 8:30 p.m. and June 28 at 7:49 a.m., several offenders broke into a storage shed at 38 Acre Park on 9th St., Winthrop Harbor. A John Deere "Gator" 6-wheel vehicle was taken. The vehicle was later recovered in Zion.

The Winthrop Harbor police are seeking information on who was responsible for this theft.

Zion-Armed robbery

Crimestoppers and the Zion police are seeking information regarding an armed robbery.

On Wednesday, July 26, at approximately 12:10 a.m., an unknown m/b walked up to three vehicles in the Burger King parking lot in Zion, pointed a chrome colored snub revolver into each vehicle and ordered the occupants to hand over their wallets. When the offender fled the area, he fired one shot into the air. The offender was described as 5 feet 8 inches to 6 feet tall, 155 pounds, black hair, brown eyes and 18-23 years of age.

The police would like to remind everyone to call when suspicious activity is observed and to not try to confront suspicious subject yourself.

If there has been one resounding theme in the history of the United States, it has been Americans' need to conquer land.

From early efforts by the U.S. government to stretch America's boundaries from ocean to ocean, to the romanticized idea of the American cowboy overcoming the wilderness of the west, this country's wide open spaces are something that have defined the unique American experience.

But as that experience was only reserved for rugged survivalists in prior eras, a technological advance in the early 20th century gave everybody the chance to experience the adventurous spirit of exploring the country on their own. That advancement, of course, is the automobile.

Right here in Lake County, a piece of that early 20th century era, along with the adventurous spirit that goes along with it, is preserved.

Earl Young, a Grayslake resident and owner of the Hitch Inn Post Best Western in Libertyville, has made it his life's calling to keep America's early love affair with the automobile alive.

Young owns 20 vintage cars, ranging from 1903-1942 in model year. Each of the cars have been restored, or is in the process of being restored almost entirely by Young. He displays a number of the cars in a basement showroom in the hotel. The others are stored in a display garage at his home and at his summer home in Florida.

But these cars are not just there to be looked at and admired.

"One of the great pleasures in my life is driving one of these cars down a very scenic country road," Young said.

Several times a year, Young and his wife take one of the cars out for an organized trip across the country. The trips are put together by different people and groups across the country.

The longest trips Young has been on have been Transcontinental Tours, organized by a Tampa, Fla. resident. On these trips, the Youngs and about 30 to 40 other vintage auto enthusiasts travel across different parts of the country for four to five weeks.

The trips are not a parade of these cars across the country-side. Rather, each driver is given a tour book and allowed to travel at their own pace. The routes stay clear of highways, both because the cars themselves cannot go that fast and to give the riders a truly American experience. Each night, the travelers all meet at the same location.

The Transcontinental Tours have let the Youngs travel across the United States, Scotland, Wales and England. But the best part about the trips has not been the places they have seen.

On each trip, Young said that a majority of the group are the same people each time.

"It's pretty much the same group of people, with a few newcomers each time," he said. "I have friends all over the country because of these tours."

Young's love of cars has been much more than a recent hobby. His fascination with the automobile began with his first

I gotta be me

While chatting on the phone last week with my oldest son, I was surprised to hear him utter these words:

"Well, Mom, you've never really been the domestic type."

That statement took me by surprise. My first instinct was to argue the point.

I wanted to say, "but what about all the cookies I used to bake," but then I remembered how excited my kids got when I baked cookies...about once a year.

I wanted to say, "but weren't you happy to find the house sparkling clean every day when you got home" but then I remembered that every day is not Saturday.

I wanted to say, "but how about all those great birthday parties I threw for you with all the beautiful decorations" but then I remembered that balloons stuck with masking tape to the light fixture aren't exactly beautiful. And they get very hot, and then they pop...and...

I realized I didn't have any ammunition to argue with. Much as I hate to admit it, the kid is right. I'm not very domestic.

I hadn't really considered it before he said it out loud, though now that I think about it, people have been giving me more and more hints lately. Like when we visited a friend's house, and my husband looked around and said to me, "Look, honey - drapes! Why don't we get some of those?"

Of course, I think he's jumping the gun a little. After all, we just moved in this house four years ago.

Even friends seem to be hinting at my less-than-Martha Stewart abilities, as illustrated in our recent outing to Ravinia with two other couples. When they were divvying up who was going to bring what, they suggested that I should just pick up the chicken...already cooked. Obviously, they figured my specialty was "food made by others."

Well, okay, they figured right. Actually, I'm surprised they didn't just call my husband and ask him to make something. He seems to be taking over the cooking chores more and more lately, if only because he hates cleaning (join the club, bub). This so impresses our friend, Steve, that he is constantly saying to my husband, "In my next life, I want to marry you."

Sorry, Steve. He prefers marriage partners without moustaches.

The weird thing is, weirder than male friends who want to marry my husband, is that the older I get, the less domestic I become. While some of my actual skills have improved, I have realized along the way that, truthfully, I don't enjoy domestic activities. But where is the law written that all women must be domestic types? It doesn't make me less of a woman, now does it? Every man, for instance, is not handy around the house. I know men who barely know a hammer from a wrench. Some of them have names like "Steve". Yet, this is not a reflection on their masculinity. They are content to hire someone else to do those things.

I, myself, would be happy to pay someone else to do it. I just can't find anyone to do it for, say, $20 a week. So my family is stuck with little old me. The Anti-Martha Stewart.

Of course, they can always look at the bright side - I may not be very domestic, but I am capable of writing great notes to the teacher when they're sick:

*Dear Mrs. Smith,
My son has taken ill. His face is as pale as a summer moon; his eyes red-rimmed like a target, his hair lusterless and dank, and his skin as clammy as the handshake of a ghoul. On this brisk, fall morning, he sucked in a deep, rattling breath and in a whispered tone (interrupted on occasion by squeaks of pain), he bid me to inform you that he will not be well enough to bask in the educational glow that emanates from your elementary soul. He asks only that someone take pity on his plight, and send home the lessons he will sorely miss.*

*With deepest regret for his absence,
Mrs. Abear.*

Too bad my kids are not impressed. The truth is that they don't care whether or not I write great notes to the teacher when they're sick.

They'd prefer I write them when they're NOT sick.

Sorry, kids. Mom may have played hooky from Home Ec class, but she got a B+ in Parenting 101.

Young artists hosts open house at town of Ft. Sheridan

On October 13-15, the Midwest Young Artists, Chicago's largest youth music ensemble program, will kick off a gala three-day open house to unveil its new home in the town of Fort Sheridan, at 878 Lyster Rd., just north of Highwood. The public is invited to tour the 12,500 square foot facility and listen to the young musicians who rehearse and perform there. The building was designed in 1890 by the noted Chicago architecture firm, Holabird and Roche and served as the base stockade for over 50 years. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the building exterior reveals few changes—the original prison bars still cover the windows—but the interior has been completely transformed. Renovations by the Town of Fort Sheridan Company were completed in June. Gone are the prison colors, utilitarian appointments and large holding cells. In their place are large rehearsal halls, practice rooms, class rooms, a recording studio and common areas to accommodate the hundreds of young musicians who attend every weekend. In hosting this open house, MYA seeks particularly to spotlight its young musicians, because they are the reason why the facility was created.

Midwest Young Artists

This open house will resemble a "back-to-school" forum where visitors can meet the instructors and observe the students in open rehearsals. MYA has planned an open house with something for everyone. There will be jazz, classical and choral concerts as well as a children's music hour with Fred and Teddi Koch. Listeners can hear a string quartet of twelve-year-olds or the News Horizons Senior Band.

MYA has planned a three-day celebration of music with an emphasis on the lifelong participation in music. Everyone is welcome. There will be refreshments, an opportunity to enter a free raffle to win free tuition and concert tickets, with the grand prize of two free round trip tickets to Europe.

Celebrate autumn in Lake County

Forest Preserve offers opportunities to appreciate the outdoors through programs

Enjoy autumn and all its splendor with a refreshing hike or bicycle ride along the southern section of the Des Plaines River Trail and earn a commemorative t-shirt at the Lake County Forest Preserves Autumn Hike & Bike on Saturday, October 7.

The event begins at Old School Forest Preserve at 9 a.m. with registration, refreshments and bike safety checks. A brief ribbon cutting ceremony will follow at 9:30 a.m. to celebrate the opening of the new St. Mary's Road trail tunnel. Then it's off to destinations northward.

Start at Old School and hike the Des Plaines River Trail to Old Rockland Road, approximately 2.3 miles round trip or bike to Oak Spring Road, approximately 4.5 miles round trip to earn a free Autumn Hike & Bike t-shirt. T-shirts can be collected at Old School until 2 p.m. The hike to Old Rockland Rd. also fulfills the Old School trail requirement for Hike lake County participants.

Bikers and hikers can trek on to Independence Grove for a special preview of this unique Forest Preserve under development, approximately 10 miles round trip. Special events will be taking place all day in celebration of this new park.

The St. Mary's Road trail tunnel at Old School Forest Preserve was installed this summer by the Lake County Department of Transportation with assistance from the Lake County Forest Preserves.

While at Old School, be sure to stop by the Information Station for free copies of trail maps, Hike Lake County travel logs, newsletters and brochures about the Forest Preserves' bond referendum on the November 7 ballot.

At the Independence Grove Open House, visitors can take a boat tour of the 115-acre lake, spot local wildlife in a viewing scope, go for a trail walk, enjoy musical entertainment, kid's activities, educational programs, displays and exhibits.

Set in the broad valley of the Des Plaines River, Independence Grove will offer a wide range of outdoor recreation and education activities. The lake is designed for swimming, fishing and boating. Construction delays caused by the original building contractor are now resolved. While anticipated completion is 2001, areas of the Preserve will open as soon as construction activity is complete and the site is proven safe. The Oct. 7 Open House is a special preview for residents.

Hiking sticks can be purchased at the event for $20. Restrooms, water and free snacks will be available along the Autumn Hike & Bike trail route. The event is free and open to all ages. Leash your furry friends and bring them along, too. The rain date for the Autumn Hike & Bike is Sunday, October 8, from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

OPEN ROAD

car, a 1932 Ford he bought when he was 14.

"Back then, there were less than six of us who drove a car to [Libertyville] High School," he recalled. "It was unique just to have a car."

From that point, Young has always been interested in cars.

"It's something you like all your life," he said.

Since he began collecting cars in 1958 with the purchase of a 1929 truck, Young has found joy in all aspects of owning vintage cars.

"There's a great satisfaction you get from restoring an old car," he said. "And driving them is a lot of fun too."

Young finds the cars all over the country, from both word-of-mouth and hobby publications. When he gets them, the cars are almost always in need of repair. He does all of the engine work he can, and has specialized auto mechanics do what he cannot. His carpentry background has given him the skills he needs to do the body work. Many of the cars back then had wooden bodies.

Young's hobby has also given him a chance to look into the history of this country with a unique perspective. His collection is a documentation of the way the automobile has evolved since it was first created.

His collection ranges from the extremely rare to the historically pertinent, both from an automotive and American standpoint. His oldest automobile is a 1903 Pierce. The vehicle is shaped like a horse-drawn buggy.

Throughout the history of the automobile, there were over 2,600 car makers in the United States. Most of them have since gone out of business, but Young's collection is marked by a few of the rarer ones.

One of these is a 1913 Moline, built in East Moline, Ill. His automobile is one of six known survivors from that company.

He also has several Ford Model "Ts" in his collection. A few of those are still going through the rebuilding process in his garage. The Model "T" was the car that popularized driving and made it accessible to all people.

"It was the car that put the working people on the road," Young explained. "Before the Model "T," cars were only for the rich."

When it first came out, the Model "T" sold for about $500. Other cars on the market were going for $5,000. These cars were a landmark in the automobile industry when they first came out.

A 1927 Packard that is displayed at Young's hotel showroom was once used by Franklin D. Roosevelt. After researching the history of the car, Young found that FDR used to use it to tour WPA (Work Projects Administration) projects. Original gun holsters are still hidden in the side panels of the driver's side doors. These were put there for Secret Service agents who were riding along with the president.

Though he loves every aspect of his hobby, Young still feels that it is the relationships he has formed that has been the most rewarding.

"The most gratifying part has been all the friends we've made," he said.

CRITIC'S CHOICE

'And the World Goes 'Round' exudes musical wit, charm

Emotionally charged and often saturated with humor, the music of John Kander and lyrics of Fred Ebb have touched a lot of people over the years through such musicals as "Chicago", "Cabaret", "Funny Lady" and others.

So it's fitting that their Broadway and television lives on, rekindled by "And the World Goes 'Round", a musical compendium conceived by Scott Ellis, Susan Strotman, and David Thompson.

Smoothly directed and choreographed by Marc Robin (Terry James, musical director) at Drury Lane Theatre, Evergreen Park, the glittering show winds its way through more than two dozen Kander and Ebb works.

It features a very versatile five-member cast, each with its own individual talents yet doubly strong when performing as an ensemble. Members are, respectively, Curt Dale Clark, Roberta Duchak, Heidi Kettenring, Rachel Rockwell, and Aaron Thielen.

"Coffee in a Cardboard Cup", a wacky diatribe (from "70, Girls, 70") against an instant gratification set the tone for Act I. The rollicking beat continues with "Sara Lee" and "Arthur in the Afternoon" and the bittersweet "Mr. Cellophane". "All that Jazz" (from "Chicago") absolutely sizzles, while "The Rink", a number performed by the cast on roller-skates, retains its nostalgic charm.

Kettenring demonstrates a voice both strong and sweetly plaintive in "World Goes 'Round" (from "New York, New York"). Rockwell's comedic bent is showcased in "Ring Them Bells" (from "Liza with a Z").

A jazzed up version of the song "Cabaret" loses something out of context from the full musical.

Meanwhile, Clark's emotion-infused rendition of the title song from "Kiss of the Spiderwoman" brought the house down on opening night.

Disney scores hit with 'Remember the Titans'

Imagine "Dead Poets Society" on the football field with some racial tension and you've got the thoroughly inspiring "Remember the Titans."

Based on the true story of a racially torn Alexandria, Va. in 1971, the movie focuses on T.C. Williams High School, forced to integrate. This decision throws the football season up in the air for the boys who already plan to be on the team—as well as the position of longtime head coach Bill Yoast (portrayed realistically by Will Patton).

Enter Coach Herman Boone (Denzel Washington), abruptly promoted to head coach to ease race the cafeteria, blacks on the other. Boone lays down the law and forces them to integrate as well.

At 3 a.m. one morning, Boone wakes up all the players for a brisk jog. Yoast says Boone is flirting with a fine line between tough and crazy, but the jog continues to a stopping point—after sunrise—at the cemetery where the Battle of Gettysburg took place.

This becomes a defining point for the movie, reminiscent of when Robin Williams' character John Keating in "Dead Poets Society" takes his students into the hallway for a lesson from the dead—"Carpe diem!" Boone's challenge is for his players to do the same and "Come together."

relations. The entire town is in an uproar over the change and parents threaten to remove their teenagers from the team. Yoast acts as the calming presence and convinces many to not take away the senior year from their players.

Boone offers Yoast the defensive coach position and sets up many opportunities for clashes between the men's coaching styles and philosophies. All players who want to be on the team are required to survive a two-week camp at Gettysburg College. The boys attempt to keep themselves separated from each other—whites on one side of

Almost Famous

"Almost Famous" follows William Miller (Patrick Fugit), a 15-year-old boy who finds his way into the world of rock journalism. William's character is based on writer and director Cameron Crowe, who began writing for "Rolling Stone" magazine at age 15.

Besides great acting and an excellent storyline, the biggest reason why I liked this movie was the simple fact that it was fun to watch. For two hours, it is 1973 and you are on a bus going across the country. It will make you want to become a music journalist. Three and a half popcorn boxes. -Tim O'Donnell

The Cell

Visually, "The Cell" is completely engulfing. There are scenes in the film that no movie-goer will soon forget. From expansive shots of star Jennifer Lopez walking across the crest of a sand dune in the middle of a vast desert, to the haunting landscapes and costumes of serial killer Carl Stargher's (Vincent D'Onofrio) subconscious, the visuals in "The Cell" are hard to match. However, the movie's predictable, even boring, story line does not live up to the visuals.

This story line is nothing more than a science fiction remake of "The Silence Of The Lambs." The movie moves along its predictable path until its conclusion, which is blatantly foreshadowed in one of the opening scenes of the movie. And the acting in "The Cell" is lackluster at best. Two popcorn boxes. -Tim O'Donnell

Duets

"Duets" ties together six lives—three "duets." Each of these couples are thrown together by circumstance rather than choice. The thread that ties them together is a $5,000 grand prize Karaoke contest in Omaha, Nebraska.

As promising as these intertw-

Denzel Washington stars as high school football coach T.C. Herman who, in 1971, is caught in the middle of integrating an all-black and all-white football team and faces the prejudice and intolerance of a small Virginia town in "Remember The Titans."

Watching the friendships that evolve between the players—despite the challenges of friends, family and society—is a joy, especially that of Gerry Bertier (Ryan Hurst) and Julius Campbell (Wood Harris). Many young actors shine in this film, a Walt Disney production. It's wonderful to have a family film this fall. The only advice for parents taking their children to see the movie is to discuss the derogatory terms used by the prejudiced townspeople in the movie.

"Remember the Titans" is truly a feel-good movie. With the lack of good movies this year, it should be a contender at the Academy Awards. For blending drama, comedy, romance, adventure and sports, I give this movie five out of five popcorn boxes.

pursue the "doctor" (Greg Kinnear) who she believes is her ex-fiance.

Ah, never had that happen to you huh? That's what makes "Nurse Betty," the new film from Barrington-native Neil LaBute, one of the most original movies I have ever seen.

The Cannes award winning screenplay develops every female character in a positive light. The women in this film are deep, caring and attentive, while every male character is either a liar, a jerk, an idiot or a hitman. Four and a half popcorn boxes. -Rob Backus

ANSWERS*HOROSCOPE*Aries – March 21/April 20

Don't let your temper get the best of you when an acquaintance tries your patience early in the week. He or she purposely is getting on your nerves. Don't give this person the satisfaction of seeing you get angry. Just let it go, because it's not worth it. A close friend has a surprise for you on Wednesday. Enjoy, because you deserve it.

Taurus – April 21/May 21

Work diligently to reach a personal goal this week, Taurus. You can achieve it as long as you stay focused. Don't let close friends distract you from the task at hand. A loved one turns to you for advice late in the week. Be honest with this person—even if what you have to say won't be appreciated. Leo plays a key role.

Gemini – May 22/June 21

Don't be too forceful when having a disagreement with a business associate this week, Gemini. Just explain your point of view calmly and reasonably. Then, let this person think things over. Pressuring him or her will get you nowhere. That special someone asks you an important question on Friday. Say yes!

Cancer – June 22/July 22

Try not to let your feelings show when that special someone has to cancel plans this week. This person feels horrible enough, and he or she doesn't want to hurt you. So, just keep your chin up, and try to understand. A close friend needs your help with a personal problem. Do what you can for him or her.

Leo – July 23/August 23

Don't be shy when a loved one introduces you to an interesting person early in the week. Just be yourself, and you're sure to make a good impression. Don't worry—your feelings will be reciprocated. An acquaintance offers to help you with a business matter. Take him or her up on it.

Virgo – Aug 24/Sept 22

You're on pins and needles as you wait for an answer to an important question this week, Virgo. Try to stay calm; that's the only way you're going to get through this. Turn to a loved one for help if you get too antsy. He or she will help you relax. Sagittarius plays an important role.

Libra – Sept 23/Oct 23

A close friend turns to you when a problem arises on Wednesday. Be there for this person. He or she really needs someone to listen. You should be that someone. Your efforts will be appreciated. Aquarius plays a key role.

Scorpio – Oct 24/Nov 22

That special someone needs your help with a family matter this week. While you have a lot of work to do, try to help. You know that this person would be there for you if the situation were reversed. An acquaintance asks to borrow money. Say no, because this person isn't reliable.

Sagittarius – Nov 23/Dec 21

When you encounter a minor setback in your financial dealings, don't get overly upset. Even though it is difficult, try to look on the bright side of things. You can bounce back if you just work diligently. A loved one needs your help with a family matter late in the week. Do what you can for him or her. Your efforts will be appreciated.

Capricorn – Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't let praise from a business associate go to your head, Capricorn. While you definitely deserve the accolades for what you've done, you still have quite a few challenges in front of you. You must work diligently if you want to stay successful. Cancer plays a key role.

Aquarius – Jan 21/Febr 18

Don't get upset when a loved one turns down your offer to go out late in the week. It has nothing to do with you; he or she just has a lot going on right now. Try to understand that. A close friend offers you romantic advice. Take it, because it definitely will help you.

Pisces – Feb 19/March 20

Don't be shocked when a business associate makes an announcement early in the week. You know that this was bound to happen. Just take it in stride. That special someone has a surprise for you on Saturday. Enjoy yourself, because you deserve it.
